Chapter 1 Corporate Information

2 Company Profile

Established in December 2014, Zhongyuan Bank is a provincial corporate bank with institutions and outlets covering the whole Henan province. Zhongyuan Bank was listed on the Main Board of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange in July 2017. In May 2022, Bank of Luoyang, Bank of Pingdingshan and Bank of JZCTS were merged and absorbed into the Bank with the approval of the Former CBIRC.

As of the end of the Reporting Period, Zhongyuan Bank operates 18 branches with over 600 business outlets, one consumer finance company, two financial leasing companies and 13 county banks. The Bank's total assets exceeded RMB1.4 trillion and the number of employees exceeded 20,000. With its excellent operating results and high-quality financial services, Zhongyuan Bank has won widespread praise from all walks of life, and was awarded "World's Best Banks by Forbes (福布斯世界最佳銀行)", "Ten Best City Commercial Banks of the Year (年度十佳城市商業銀行)", "Top Ten Iron-horse Banks (鐵馬十佳銀行)", "Best Listed Company (最佳上市公司)", "Outstanding City Commercial Bank of the Year (年度卓越城商行)" "Top 500 Listed Chinese Companies published by The Fortune in 2025 (2025年《財富》中國上市公司500強)", and other honors. Zhongyuan Bank ranked 152nd amongst the top 1,000 banks in the world by The Banker (UK) in 2025, and its social reputation and brand influence continued to enhance.

Zhongyuan Bank will continuously adhere to the guidance of Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, concentrate on the goal of "building a first-class city commercial bank and becoming the vanguard in the Henan financial army" proposed by CPC Committee and Government of Henan Province and centre on the mission positioning of "being the bank of people themselves in central China". The Bank insists that the Party's leadership is the soul, the Party Committee and the government are the reliance, recognises that the market economy is the environment, the institutional nature is a bank, and firmly protects the asset quality as life and the operating results as the fundamentals, and it fully supports the practice of Chinese-style modernization in Henan Province, and makes new and greater contributions to creating a more splendid chapter of Zhongyuan Bank in the new era and new journey.

Chapter 3 Chairman's Statement

Chapter 3 Chairman's Statement

As time unfolds through seasons, a new chapter of glory blooms. The year 2025 marked a crucial year for building a modern socialist country in all respects and the end of China's "14th Five-Year Plan". In this year, though once-in-a-century transformations accelerated evolution, China's economy forged ahead steadily amid challenges. Zhongyuan Bank has always adhered to Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era as its fundamental guideline, deeply understands the profound significance of the "Two Establishments", strengthened the "Four Consciousnesses", consolidated the "Four Confidences" and ensured "Two Upholds". We fully implemented the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China and all subsequent plenary sessions. Under the strong leadership of the Provincial Party Committee and the Provincial People's Government and with the vigorous support of all sectors of the society, we reviewed and planned our development within the context of advancing Chinese-style modernization in Henan. Deeply integrating into Henan's "1+2+4+N" target task system and the "two priorities and four focal tasks" strategic layout, we concentrated on the primary goal of high-quality development, maintained our strategic focus, deepened reform and innovation, strengthened risk prevention and control and delivered an annual result with stable operations, improved quality and efficiency in the journey of serving the construction of a modern Henan.

As of the end of 2025, the Group's total assets amounted to RMB1,414.293 billion; operating revenue amounted to RMB26.507 billion, with a net profit of RMB3.576 billion; the non-performing loan ratio was 1.96%; and the allowance coverage ratio was 165.75%. Total assets maintained reasonable growth, operational efficiency improved steadily, asset quality remained generally manageable, and all major regulatory indicators continued to meet requirements. This hard-won achievement embodied the wisdom and efforts of all Zhongyuan Bank's employees, carried the trust and affection of our customers, investors and partners, and was inseparable from the guidance and support of the Party Committees, governments and regulatory authorities at all levels. On behalf of the Board of Directors, I would like to extend my sincere gratitude and highest respect to all friends from all sectors of the society who care about, support and participate in the development of Zhongyuan Bank!

Chapter 3 Chairman's Statement

We adhered to the leadership of the Party and consolidated the “foundation” and “soul” of high-quality development. We always placed the Party's political construction at the forefront, earnestly practiced the political-oriented and people-oriented finance work, and integrated the Party's leadership into the entire process of corporate governance. Strictly implementing the standing committee system of the Party Committee and the “Three Important and One Great” decision-making system, we ensured the full implementation of the decisions of the Party Central Committee and the work requirements of the Provincial Party Committee. We strived to promote the in-depth integration of Party building and business operations, transforming the Party's political and organizational advantages into strong development momentum and governance efficiency. We carried out high-standard study and education on the thorough implementation of the spirit of the Central Eight-Point Regulations, advanced the comprehensive and strict party governance in depth, and strived to forge a financial team of loyalty, integrity and responsibility, providing a strong guarantee for the steady development of Zhongyuan Bank.

We deeply integrated into regional strategies and bravely took on the main role in serving the real economy. Proactively direct financial “liquidity” toward the broader landscape of the national strategies and regional development, we fully advanced the “Five Priorities”. With sci-tech finance taking the lead, our coverage of “specialized, refined, differential and innovative” enterprises maintained a leading position in Henan, and we were recognized as an “Excellent Partner Bank” for sci-tech finance in Henan for four consecutive years, accelerating the development of new productive forces; empowered by green finance, we were recognized as a Tier-One Green Finance Institution in Henan Province for three consecutive years, thus safeguarding lucid waters and lush mountains with financial strength; we fulfilled our responsibilities in inclusive finance and promoted the costs reduction, increment and expansion of small and micro loans, extending financial services to the furthest reaches of the real economy; through deepening pension finance, we accelerated the aging-friendly renovation of our outlets, caring for the elderly with sincere services; by activating digital finance, the number of mobile banking customers continued to grow, making smart finance easily accessible to all.

We were committed to strategic transformation and fostering new advantages in distinctive development. By launching a new round of strategic planning, we continued to deepen the “Four Banks” strategic layout, maintained strategic focus, and resolutely did what was difficult but right. The foundation of the “bank for governments” was further consolidated, with the share of new special bonds issuance and underwriting ranking first in the province; the support of the “bank for industries” was strengthened, promoting the upgrade of services for key industrial chains such as optoelectronics and superhard materials from “individual customers” to “industrial scenarios”; the reputation of the “bank for citizens” was enhanced, with the operation system for core and featured customer groups such as the elderly and new citizens increasingly improved; the efforts of “bank for rural revitalization” was deepened, writing a new chapter of rural revitalization on the fertile land of the Central Plains region. We showed a high-quality development trend with more solid capital, optimized structure and distinct feature.

We adhered to strengthen the Bank through talent development and cultivated fertile ground for career development and entrepreneurship. We deeply recognized that talent was the primary resource for high-quality development. Adhering to the correct orientation in selecting and appointing cadres, we improved the mechanism for cadre selection and appointment, ensuring that the capable are placed in suitable posts, while the incompetent step aside. We emphasized cultivating and tempering cadres through practice, strengthened job rotations and exchanges among different business lines and between the headquarters, branches and sub-branches, and strived to enhance the understanding and execution capabilities of cadres for strategies at all levels. We improved the dual-track promotion mechanism for management and professional career paths, enabling employees with “expertise and specialized skills” to have broad development prospects. Vigorously promoting the core values of “responsibility and proactive innovation, unity and cooperation and prudence and compliance”, we created a sound political ecology with an upright atmosphere and encouraging career development and entrepreneurship, and strived to transform the scale advantage of over 20,000 employees into a talent advantage for high-quality development.

Chapter 3 Chairman's Statement

We strengthened the bottom line of safety and consolidated the firewall for stable and long-term development. We always regarded risk prevention and control as an eternal theme, continuously improved the comprehensive risk management system, strengthened the application of intelligent risk control technologies, and achieved early identification, early warning and early disposal of risks. Going all out to “controlling new exposure while addressing the existing ones”, we achieved remarkable results in non-performing asset disposal, and asset quality has been continuously consolidated. We steadily promoted the reform to defuse risks of county banks, successfully completed the reform of the Board of Supervisors, and the corporate governance system has been continuously improved. By continuously deepening the construction of compliance culture and improving the long-term mechanism for internal control and compliance, we ensured that all business activities run on a track of soundness and prudence.

Those who plan wisely go far, and those who work diligently succeed. The year 2026 is the first year of the “15th Five-year Plan” and a crucial year for Zhongyuan Bank to deepen its implementation of strategies and develop core competitiveness at a new starting point. I will lead the Board of Directors to focus more intently on performing its core responsibilities of “formulating strategies, making decisions and preventing risks”, safeguarding the Bank’s high-quality development through improved governance efficiency. We will maintain unwavering patience and strategic focus, neither rushing ahead recklessly nor waiting passively, resolutely to do what is difficult but right, and promote the construction of the “Four Banks” to move from laying the foundation to building sustained strength. We will adhere to a bottom-line mindset, elevate risk prevention and control to a higher priority, supervise the management to control new exposure while addressing the existing ones and consolidate our foundational strength, so as to achieve continuous improvement in asset quality while serving the real economy. We will follow the laws of banking operations, balance short-term benefits with long-term value, and refrain from judging success solely by scale, and guide the Bank to truly focus on optimizing structure, strengthening fundamentals and enhancing sustainable momentum.

Where there is a will, no distance is too far; where there is a way, no mountains or seas are too vast to overcome. Standing at a new historical starting point, I am full of confidence in the future of Zhongyuan Bank. This confidence stems from the strong leadership of the Provincial Party Committee and the Provincial People’s Government, the unity of all employees as well as the profound trust upon us by all sectors of the society. I firmly believe that as long as the Bank stays committed to our goals, maintains strategic focus, overcomes difficulties with the courage to “take on the toughest challenges to pursue the highest target”, and continues to strive with the mindset of “success does not have to be achieved by me, but it must be achieved with my contribution”, we will surely forge ahead steadily. In the journey of advancing the practice of Chinese-style modernization in Henan, we will leave a lasting footprint belonging to Zhongyuan Bank and deliver even more outstanding results to the Provincial Party Committee, the Provincial People’s Government, our shareholders, our customers and all sectors of the society!

Executive Director, Chairman of the Board
GUO Hao¹

¹ On April 21, 2026, Mr. GUO Hao resigned as the executive Director, the chairman of the Board and the Chairman of the Strategy and Development Committee of the Board of the Bank due to work rearrangement. For details, please refer to the announcement of the Bank dated April 21, 2026.

Chapter 4 President's Statement

Chapter 4 President's Statement

The year 2025 marked the final year of China's 14th Five-Year Plan, a crucial year in which Zhongyuan Bank overcame challenges and achieved steady development. Zhongyuan Bank has diligently studied and implemented the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China (CPC or Party) and all plenary sessions of the 20th CPC Central Committee. Anchored in its commitment to "serving urban and rural residents, serving small and medium-sized enterprises, and serving local economic development", Zhongyuan Bank has remained steadfast and diligent, vigorously pursuing specialized operations and differentiated development strategies. In doing so, Zhongyuan Bank has delivered a high-quality development performance marked by stability, progress, innovation, and enhanced resilience.

Reflecting on the year 2025, under the leadership of Party building, we advanced the deep integration of Party building and business operations with high quality. Guided by Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, we carried out in-depth study and implementation of the spirit of the Fourth Plenary Session of the 20th CPC Central Committee, applying the Party's innovative theories to promote the high-quality development of Zhongyuan Bank. By comprehensively advancing the deep integration of Party building with business operations, we effectively performed the principal responsibility of Party management and governance and the operational responsibility of corporate governance and development in a unified manner. We strengthened Party organization construction by embracing a spirit of reform and maintaining rigorous standards, forging a strong fighting fortress. We steadfastly advanced the in-depth study and implementation of the Central Eight-Point Regulations, persistently rectified improper practices and corruption around the public, and further consolidated the defenses for clean and ethical finance.

Reflecting on the year 2025, we maintained prudent operations, achieving steady and high-quality growth in our operating results. Our asset scale continued to increase steadily. As at the end of 2025, the Group's total assets amounted to RMB1,414.293 billion, representing an increase of RMB49.096 billion as compared with the end of the previous year. Profitability improved steadily. Throughout the year, the Group recorded operating income of RMB26.507 billion, representing an increase of 2.1% as compared with the end of the previous year; net profit amounted to RMB3.576 billion, representing an increase of 3.1% as compared with the end of the previous year; and total taxes and fees paid reached RMB2.729 billion. Asset quality was further enhanced, with the non-performing loan ratio at 1.96%. Operational efficiency continued to improve, with the cost-to-income ratio at 38.34%, representing a decrease of 0.46 percentage point as compared with the end of the previous year.

Reflecting on the year 2025, we focused on our principal business and delivered the "Five Target Areas" of finance (namely sci-tech finance, green finance, inclusive finance, pension finance and digital finance) with high quality. Sci-tech finance has strengthened our service credentials, with key products such as the "Science and Technology Loan" and the "Loan to Enterprises that Apply Special, Sophisticated Techniques to Produce Unique and Novel Products" maintaining a leading position in Henan Province. Loans to sci-tech enterprises remained securely within the province's top tier. Green finance underpinned progress towards the "dual carbon" goals, with the launch of Henan Province's first "special bond + project loan". For three consecutive years, we have been recognized as a Tier-One Green Finance Institution in Henan Province. Inclusive finance has benefited thousands of households, with the balance of inclusive small and micro loans reaching RMB96.2 billion. Pension finance provides warmth to the silver-haired customers. Four model outlets for pension finance were established, serving over 12.81 million elderly customers, with the balance of commercial pension exceeding RMB1.7 billion. Digital finance empowers smarter lifestyles. We focused on creating a simple, intelligent and culturally enriched APP, precisely integrating the distinctive features of Henan's eighteen cities into our service scenarios. The number of online customers of our mobile banking exceeded 20 million, maintained its position among the top three city commercial banks nationwide.

Chapter 4 President's Statement

Reflecting on the year 2025, we remained steadfast in our fundamentals, providing high-quality service to support local economic and social development. In close alignment with regional strategic objectives, we formulated the Implementation Plan for Financial Services under the “Two Highs and Four Focuses” Framework of Zhongyuan Bank, injecting financial impetus into key project development. The balance of loans for ecological protection and high-quality development of the Yellow River Basin reached RMB282.4 billion. We deeply integrated the Bank into the broader industrial upgrading agenda, with the balance of industrial credit reaching RMB265.9 billion. We cultivated the vast potential of county-level markets, extended our service reach, and strengthened our network of convenient services, bringing financial services to communities, streets and rural areas. We advanced the “One County, One Strategy” and “One County, Three Industries” initiatives, effectively promoting rural revitalization through the development of county-level industries. By upholding the value orientation of “finance serving people (金融為民)”, we implemented targeted initiatives to boost consumption, actively supported policies for trade-ins of consumer goods, with the balance of personal consumption loans reaching RMB194.8 billion.

Reflecting on the year 2025, we managed risks effectively and built a high-quality defense line for secure financial development. Upholding the principle that “asset quality is our lifeblood (資產質量是生命)”, we focused our efforts on both containing new risks and resolving legacy issues, formulated 27 distinctive industry-specific credit policies, and established an approval team that is “willing, capable, daring to approve while avoiding recklessness”. Our efforts in non-performing asset disposal yielded tangible results, successfully achieving the objectives set by the provincial government for centralized collection and revitalization. Notable achievements were made in the reform and risk mitigation of affiliated county banks, marking the province's first successful case of merger and absorption of a county bank. We deepened consumer rights protection, and collaborated in combating illegal financial activities, thereby contributing to local safety and stability.

Reflecting on the year 2025, we persevered with determination, laying a solid foundation for high-quality business development. Aligning with the strategic planning requirements of the national and Henan Provincial “15th Five-Year Plan”, we conducted a thorough review of Zhongyuan Bank's resource endowment and strategic positioning, formulating the Zhongyuan Bank Co., Ltd. Strategic Plan (2025-2030), which clearly outlines our differentiated development pathway through characteristic operations centered on building “Four Banks” and cultivating “Four Distinctive Features”. We further consolidated our business fundamentals, and successfully obtained approval as a direct participant in the RMB Cross-Border Interbank Payment System (CIPS), becoming the first local legal person bank in the six provinces of Central China to receive this recognition. We steadily advanced the “Three Light” transformation, strengthened fixed asset management, and optimized branch network layout. We completed the relocation of the headquarters building of Zhongyuan Bank, unveiling a renewed image to meet customer expectations.

The Dream lofty and the journey long - but bold strides will get us there. The year 2026 marks the launch of the “15th Five-Year Plan”, and a pivotal moment to capitalize on momentum and reach new heights. We will charge ahead like horses with courage, vitality, and energy. We will fully advance characteristic operation and differentiated development, striving to build a first-class city commercial bank, becoming the vanguard in the Henan financial army, and contributing to the advancement of Chinese modernization across Central China. This year, we will continue to prioritize serving our local community, accelerate the implementation of the “Two High-level Priorities and Four Areas of Emphasis (兩高四着力)” financial service plan, deepen the construction of the “Four Banks”, and align with regional development to demonstrate the responsibility and commitment of a local legal entity bank in promoting the high-quality development of the real economy. We will remain customer-centric, refine operations, pursue excellence, enhance financial service efficiency, and reward every measure of trust with superior products and more considerate service. We will continue to make innovation our core driver, firmly cultivate a problem-solving mindset, deepen digital transformation, enhance risk prevention and control capabilities, reinforce the solid defense of prudent operations, and strive to write a new chapter in high-quality development. We are committed to creating greater value for society and dedicating our efforts to reciprocate the trust and support of our customers, investors and all sectors of the society.

Executive Director, President
ZHOU Feng¹

¹ On April 21, 2026, Mr. ZHOU Feng resigned as the president of the Bank and was elected as the Chairman at the Board meeting. The qualification of Mr. ZHOU Feng as the Chairman is subject to approval by the Henan Office of the National Administration of Financial Regulation. For details, please refer to the announcement of the Bank dated April 21, 2026.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

1 Past Economic and Financial Environment

During the Reporting Period, external instability and uncertainties were prevalent, with severe challenges to the international economic and trade order. Global economic growth momentum remained weak, with divergent trends of inflation and a cooling labor market. The impact from tariff policies on certain economies continued to emerge, with debts in major economies still at a high level, resulting in uncertainties to global economic growth and inflation.

During the Reporting Period, China implemented more proactive and effective macroeconomic policies, continuously adjusted and optimized its economic structure, accelerated the transition between old and new drivers and deepened the policy of reform and opening up. Overall, the economy pressed forward under pressure and toward innovation and enhancement, successfully achieving main targets of economic and social development. The “14th Five-year Plan” concluded successfully, making a good start of a new journey towards the Second Centenary Goal. Gross domestic product (GDP) amounted to RMB140,187.9 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of 5.0% at constant prices. Market sales expanded, with total retail sales of consumer goods amounting to RMB50,120.2 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of 3.7%. Services sector maintained stable growth, with its added value for the whole year increasing by 5.4%. Imports and exports of goods grew steadily, totaling RMB45,468.7 billion, an increase of 3.8% compared with last year. Prices remained generally stable, with the consumer price index (“CPI”) same as the previous year. Resident income continued to grow, with per capita disposable income reaching RMB43,377, representing a year-on-year increase of 5.0% in real terms. Overall, the national economy sustained its steady upward trajectory under multiple pressures and achieved new results in high-quality development.

During the Reporting Period, Henan province focused on the target system of “1+2+4+N”, proactively integrated into and served the unified national big market, adhered to the principles of “seize, reserve, enhance, and act with strength; counter-cyclical and cross cyclical policies; precision, effectiveness and dedication (抓扭提用力、逆跨順用策、準時效用心)”. It made efforts to stabilize employment, enterprises, markets and expectations, improving the province’s economic trend toward progress, innovation, high quality and strong resilience amid stability. The GDP of Henan Province reached RMB6,663.279 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of 5.6%. The industrial production maintained fast growth, with value added of industries above designated size in the province rising by 8.4% year-on-year, 0.3 percentage points higher than the previous year. Fixed asset investment increased steadily, up 4.0% year-on-year. The consumer market continued to rise, with total retail sales of consumer goods amounting to RMB2,909.050 billion, up 5.6% year-on-year. Foreign trade achieved a record high, with the total value of foreign trade imports and exports amounting to RMB935.67 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of 14.1%.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

During the Reporting Period, the Central Bank implemented a moderately accommodative monetary policy, introducing a package of monetary financial policies based on effective implementation of existing monetary policies to continuously enhance the foresight, precision, and synergy of macro policy, creating a favorable monetary and financial environment for stable growth of economy. The broad money supply (M2) reached RMB340.3 trillion, up 8.5% year-on-year. Aggregate social financing expanded steadily, with outstanding social financing at RMB442.1 trillion, up 8.3% year-on-year. The total volume of credit rose steadily, with the balance of domestic and foreign currency loans of financial institutions reaching RMB275.7 trillion, up 6.2% year-on-year. Moving forward, the Central Bank will accelerate the improvement of the central banking system, establish a scientific and stable monetary policy system and a comprehensive macro prudent management system to ensure the smooth function in transmission mechanism of monetary policy. The Central Bank will balance the relationships between short term and long term, stable growth and risk prevention, internal and external equilibrium and support for real economy and the health of banking system, strengthen the consistency of macroeconomic system, implement counter-cyclical and cross cyclical policies adjustments and enhance the efficiency of macroeconomic governance.

2 Overall Operation Overview

During the Report Period, the Bank focused on the goal of “building a first-class city commercial bank and becoming the vanguard in the Henan financial army,” while accelerating the building of “Four Banks”, overcoming obstacles and forging ahead with determination, with a high-quality development through high-quality party leadership. Overall, its operations demonstrated a sound trend of steady progress and high quality. The Bank ranked 152nd amongst the top 1,000 banks in the world by The Banker (UK) in 2025, won the seventh session “Iron Horse – Top Ten Small and Medium-sized Banks (鐵馬十佳銀行)”, and ranked the 305th on Fortune China 500 in 2025.

The Bank adhered to the principle of pursuing progress while maintaining stability. By solidifying asset quality and improving profitability, the Bank enhanced its capital strength, strengthened foundation for long-term and healthy development, with strategic implementation path being clearer, core momentum of high-quality development continuing to improve. The corporate governance structure continued to improve, internal control system and mechanism became more robust, brand image and social influence gradually improved, and new core competitiveness is rapidly forming. As of the end of the Reporting Period, the Bank’s total assets amounted to RMB1,414.293 billion, representing an increase of RMB49.096 billion, or 3.6%, compared with the end of the previous year. Total loans (excluding accrued interest) reached RMB733.905 billion, up RMB19.45 billion, or 2.7%, compared with the end of the previous year. Deposits (excluding accrued interest) amounted to RMB959.127 billion, representing an increase of RMB69.693 billion, or 7.8%, compared with the end of the previous year. Note:

- (1) Short-term loans include loans with a maturity of one year or less and advances.
- (2) Medium-to-long-term loans include loans with a maturity of more than one year.
- (3) Others mainly include credit cards.
- (4) Non-performing loan ratio is calculated by dividing the balance of non-performing loans in each product type by gross loans in that product type.

As of the end of the Reporting Period, the balance of corporate non-performing loans of the Bank amounted to RMB6,739 million, representing an increase of RMB155 million as compared with the end of last year. The non-performing loan ratio was 1.60%, representing a decrease of 0.01 percentage point as compared with the end of last year. The slight increase in balance of corporate non-performing loans of the Bank was primarily due to the impact of macroeconomic environment on some enterprises, leading to fluctuations in operational and solvency capabilities, which has resulted in a normal and reasonable range of variation in non-performing loans.

- (5) The decrease in bill scale was mainly due to the impact of the new regulations on bills, coupled with relatively low bill yields in the market. The Bank has proactively optimized asset structure allocation and moderately reduced the bill scale.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

9.1.4.3 Transaction Banking

During the Reporting Period, the Bank focused on promoting the high-quality development of transaction banking business, leveraging leading provincial industrial enterprises or regional speciality industries to explore scenario-based service models. On the one hand, the Bank reinforced technology empowerment, advanced innovation in product and service models and strengthened the foundation for sustainable development. On the other hand, the Bank focused on core areas such as treasury management, supply chain finance, international business and electronic channels, continuously improving its product system, and promoting the effective implementation of key businesses to consolidate the development advantages of transaction banking business.

Treasury management

The Bank has built an online product marketing system that combined “settlement + liabilities + investment”, and combined “finance + non-finance”, resulting in steady growth in both business scale and market influence. Firstly, the Bank has deepened government-bank cooperation, aligning closely with the requirements for the categorised management of fiscal funds across various cities. By enhancing its deep connection and collaboration with government institutions, the Bank has reinforced the brand image of “bank for governments” and consolidated the foundation for government-bank cooperation, thereby providing solid support for business expansion. Secondly, by focusing on the construction of an industrial financial ecosystem and using the centralized fund management needs of core enterprises as a point of entry, the Bank has engaged with and served the upstream and downstream enterprises in the industrial chain on a broad scale. This has improved the industrial financial services chain and steadily advanced the development of the “industrial bank” ecosystem. Thirdly, the Bank has strengthened its digital operational capabilities by establishing a full-process online operational and promotional model comprising “model selection + precise dissemination + online contracting”, thereby realizing full-process online customer service and enhancing both service efficiency and customer experience.

As of the end of the Reporting Period, the number of customers for treasury management service exceeded 40,000, representing an increase of nearly 40% as compared with the end of the previous year, with continuous enhancement in business competitiveness.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

Supply chain finance

The Bank has developed an innovative service model focusing on the liquidity financial needs of industry chain participants in procurement, production, sales and other links. The Bank has also continued to optimize the online experience for online factoring, asset pool, order financing and other products, thereby enhancing the quality and efficiency of financing services for accounts receivable. The Bank has launched its proprietary movable property supervision platform to strengthen its capability to provide financing services for movable properties across multiple scenarios and categories. During the Reporting Period, the Bank has cumulatively provided enterprises with convenient and efficient supply chain financing of RMB223.5 billion.

International business

After being permitted to join the Cross-border Interbank Payment System (CIPS), the Bank has become the first local legal person bank in the six provinces in central China to qualify as a direct participant in CIPS. Completed the ISO 20022 (MX) payment message upgrade and business adaptation for the SWIFT system, the Bank has aligned with international payment standards to ensure the security, efficiency and compliance of cross-border payment services. The Bank has strengthened agency banking arrangements by newly designating Standard Chartered Bank as a US dollar clearing bank, thereby further supporting Henan Province's participation in the high-quality development of the "Belt and Road Initiative". The Bank has also broadened interbank cooperation channels by establishing partnerships with various banks in areas such as agency import letter of credit and second-tier forfaiting, successfully achieving a breakthrough in business development. Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

9.7.1.2 Business development during the Reporting Period

During the Reporting Period, the Bank continued to strengthen the guidance and management of county banks by refining risk and financial control mechanisms, optimizing personnel management structures, and implementing measures such as strategic coordination, technology empowerment and liquidity support. The county banks always adhered to their positioning of “supporting the agriculture and small and micro enterprises (支農支小)” and upheld the principles of “micro and disperse (小額、分散)”. They continued to advance business expansion into the primary level and structural optimization, focusing on serving rural revitalization and inclusive finance, thereby further consolidating the foundations for compliant operations and solid growth.

9.7.2 Consumer Finance Company

During the Reporting Period, Zhongyuan Consumer Finance Company always adhered to the guidance of the Party building, adhered to the people-centered value orientation, and strictly implemented the requirements of high-quality development. Facing the dual challenges posed by a complex and volatile market environment and evolving industry policies, it always adhered to a prudent operation approach, continuously optimized its business structure, strictly controlled operational risks and enhanced service quality and efficiency, thereby earnestly fulfilling its responsibilities of supporting consumption upgrading and practicing inclusive finance.

9.7.3 Financial Leasing Companies

During the Reporting Period, AB Leasing thoroughly implemented the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Party and its plenary sessions, closely aligned with the directives of the Central Financial Work Conference, the Central Economic Work Conference and the Provincial Party Committee’s Economic Work Conference, and earnestly advanced the study and education of the spirit of the Central Eight-Point Regulations. The company carried forward comprehensive and rigorous Party governance in depth, remained focused on its principal responsibilities and core business, striving to enhance quality and efficiency, and deepened industrial transformation, so as to strengthen risk prevention and control, and ensure substantial progress on the path toward high-quality development for the company.

During the Reporting Period, according to the work deployment of the Party Committee of the head office and closely adhering to the working idea of “pursuing progress while maintaining stability, prioritizing compliance, deepening transformation, and supporting the real economy”, BOL Financial Leasing prioritized Party building to pursue high-quality development, while strengthening its risk and compliance system construction and intensifying support for the real economy. By continuously driving business transformation, consistently enhancing asset quality and persistently reducing capital costs, it achieved sound quality and efficiency in overall operations and development.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

10 Risk Management

During the Reporting Period, the Bank resolutely implemented the spirit of the 20th National Congress of the Party and its plenary sessions, insisted on the strategy of “Four Banks” and focused on “building new core competitiveness through the characteristic operation and differentiated development”. The Bank remained committed to serving the real economy as its original mission, strictly upheld the bottom line of safeguarding the lifeline of asset quality, strived to enhance the intelligent risk control capabilities and systematically facilitated the construction of risk governance system, thereby providing solid support for the high-quality development of business and building a strong competitive first-class city commercial bank.

10.1 Credit Risk Management

The Bank improved credit risk management strategies and enhanced the guiding role of policies. It formulated and improved credit policies guidelines on key industries, products and areas in accordance with the changes in regulatory policies and the macroeconomic situation to lead the steady business development and optimize its credit structure. The Bank stringently implemented management and control measures of customer risk limits, and strengthened the active management of credit limits to improve the control and guiding role on the credit business.

The Bank optimized the credit approval mechanism and deepened digital intelligence empowerment. It refined the mechanism for the prioritized participation of product departments in approval decision-making to enhance the professionalism of the approval process. The Bank continued to strengthen the competency development of its approval teams and established standardized approval criteria and a shared understanding of risk appetite. The Bank deepened its review and analysis of key sectors to seek guidance for its credit policies, while optimizing and iterating its credit system to comprehensively upgrade system functionalities. It enhanced its auxiliary approval decision-making system, successively launching multiple credit decision support models and compliance rules.

The Bank enhanced the quality and efficiency of credit management by strengthening the credit risk prevention and control. Strictly adhering to the strategy of “Four Banks”, the Bank formulated annual targets and plans on the management and control of the quality of assets, and continually optimized asset structure to enhance the quality of assets. The Bank maintained a sharp focus on the disposal of major non-performing projects and the mitigation of key risk associated with clients, making every effort to recover and reduce non-performing assets. It stepped up the efforts on the reconstruction of the new credit risk early warning system, continuously enhancing the digital and intelligent capabilities of post-lending management. The Bank regularly conducted off-site monitoring and on-site inspections, established a full-process default management mechanism, and implemented rigorous management of the near-due and collections. It strengthened oversight of priority areas and capital utilization, consistently reduced the credit business in other regions, and proactively withdrew from business with potential risk exposures, aiming to strictly prevent the new deteriorations, and solidly facilitate credit risk prevention and control.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

The Bank consolidated the foundation for risk quantification and enhanced risk management capabilities. It continued to deepen the development of the internal rating system of credit risk, clarified the optimization channels for non-retail rating models, actively communicated and reported to regulatory authorities while facilitating the policy transmission in line with compliance requirements. In addition, it strengthened the full lifecycle management of retail scorecard models and consolidated the framework for model risk governance, ensuring the robustness and compliance of model applications. The Bank completed the update and reinspection of the expected credit loss model parameters, conducted independent third-party verification to ensure prudence and reliability of the model, while promoting the functional upgrade of the new financial asset impairment system to continually enhance risk resilience. It deeply implemented the new capital regulations, improved the implementation and management system for capital measurement, completed the development of the risk-weighted asset management system to achieve systematic and standardized capital measurement, providing a robust foundation for capital and risk management across the Bank and effectively enhancing capital allocation efficiency and risk control capabilities.

The Bank stringently controlled the large amount risk exposures and optimized concentration management. In strict compliance with the requirements of regulatory authorities on the management of large amount risk exposure, the Bank regularly carried out the measurement, monitoring and reporting of large amount risk exposure and effectively implemented the management of various risk limits.

During the Reporting Period, the Bank's large amount risk exposure indicators all met the regulatory requirements, and the credit risk was stable and controllable.

10.2 Market Risk Management

During the Reporting Period, in adherence to the regulatory guidance and market trends, the Bank continuously enhanced the market risk management system and comprehensively improved management quality and efficiency.

The Bank dynamically optimized the market risk limit management system and formulated an annual limit management plan in accordance with business development and regulatory requirements. It also reinforced the forward-looking guidance of limit management through daily monitoring and dynamic reinspection, so as to ensure the sound development of the business.

The Bank constantly enhanced market risk measurement capabilities, optimized market risk management system functions, and deepened full-process management of financial market operations, thereby improving the automation and intelligence level of market risk management.

Closely focusing on macroeconomic and policy trends, the Bank enhanced high-frequency measurement, monitoring, analysis and report on risk exposure and level based on the risk characteristics of different types of financial market businesses and improved the timeliness and effectiveness of market risk monitoring and control.

During the Reporting Period, all market risk indicators of the Bank remained stable, and the overall risk situation was controllable.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

10.3 Operational Risk Management

During the Reporting Period, the Bank continuously improved the operational risk management system. In accordance with the regulatory requirements for operational risk management and the Bank's actual circumstances, the Bank formulated operational risk appetite policies and adjusted operational risk appetite indicators to enhance the transmission mechanism for operational risk appetite. With a focus on digital intelligence empowerment, the Bank constantly optimized the operational risk management system functions to improve operational efficiency. The Bank intensified its efforts on its operational risk cultural cultivation and promotion through diverse channels and forms, so as to enhance risk management awareness among all staff.

The Bank deepened the application of the three major operational risk management tools. The Bank carried out data governance for loss events, broadened the sources of loss event clues, and optimized the identification mechanisms for loss events. It conducted regular monitoring of key risk indicators, and optimized indicator parameters in accordance with actual management practices. The Bank conducted periodic process reviews and risk self-assessments to identify control defects and hidden risks in key products and management processes.

The Bank constantly enhanced internal control and compliance management. It attached great importance to the management of employee conduct and case prevention, and regularly conducted investigations into abnormal employee transactions and case-related risks. The Bank formulated the "Annual Work Plan for Compliance Enhancement of Zhongyuan Bank", arranged for the "three-year inspection covering all branches and direct sub-branches (分行、直屬支行三年檢查全覆蓋)"; aiming to conduct comprehensive inspections on the branches, and reinforce the rectification of issues identified.

The Bank enhanced the development of business continuity, network security, and data security management systems. It continued to standardize business continuity management and revised the Measures for the Administration of Business Continuity of Zhongyuan Bank. The Bank issued the Security Technical Specifications for Large Language Model of Zhongyuan Bank, completed security assessment and reinforcement of large language model applications, thereby effectively safeguarding business application innovation. The Bank fulfilled its data security responsibilities by conducting a self-assessment of data security across the Bank, coupled with regular publicity of network and data security.

During the Reporting Period, the Bank's overall operation was standardized and orderly, and there was no major operational risk event.

10.4 Liquidity Risk Management

During the Reporting Period, the Bank continually optimized and enhanced the liquidity risk management system. It strengthened organizational management and clarified the division of responsibilities. The Bank constantly refined liquidity management tools and strategy system while improving the coordinated management and control mechanism of the liquidity risk at the group level, so as to intensify the regular monitoring of liquidity risk. It also provided guidance and assistance to subsidiaries in bolstering liquidity management, and made efforts to raise the Group's liquidity risk management capabilities, while fully leveraging the decision-making role of the Asset and Liability Management Committee in asset, liability, and liquidity management strategies, thereby ensuring the effective transmission of liquidity risk management strategies.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

The Bank continued to optimize and update its liquidity risk management system to enhance its applicability in accordance with the changes in regulatory policies and internal management requirements. The Bank continued to enrich management tools such as gap management, limit management, financing management, liquid assets reserve management, stress test and emergency drill, and enhance active management capabilities of liquidity risk. It constantly facilitated the development of its liquidity management information system with a particular focus on online and intelligent levels, and improved the accuracy of intraday position management and the timeliness of daily liquidity monitoring, thereby ensuring liquidity security and enhancing the quality and efficiency of management. It strengthened asset-liability structure management and duration management, and rationally adjusted the business term structure. The level of overall term mismatch and gap was controlled within a reasonable range; the active liability tools were rationally used to improve the diversity and stability of liability sources. The Bank seized the opportunities to increase the allocation of high-quality bonds, intensively deployed high-quality liquid assets to improve the risk mitigation and prevention abilities. The Bank conducted periodic liquidity risk-related stress test and focused on the analysis and application of stress test results to guide the optimization of its asset-liability strategies. It also conducted emergency drills on a regular basis and reviewed the effectiveness of the emergency drill process to prevent and reduce the negative impacts of the liquidity risk events to the maximum extent. The Bank actively disseminated the monetary policy of the central bank, strengthened its responsibility, and effectively maintained the safety and stability of regional liquidity.

During the Reporting Period, the liquidity risk of the Bank was safe and controllable.

10.5 Information Technology Risk Management

During the Reporting Period, the Bank continually enhanced its information technology risk management system, further consolidating the foundation of information technology risk governance. In line with the management objectives of "comprehensive coverage, intensified monitoring, and double-closed-loop", the Bank established a system for information technology risk management characterised by clearly defined responsibilities, sound mechanisms, and effective operation. The Bank continued to strengthen its assessment mechanisms for information technology risk, systematically improving its capability across the Bank to identify, analyse and comprehensively assess information technology risks. Focusing on key areas including information system operations, data security, outsourcing management, business continuity, data centre operational support, as well as major projects and significant system changes, the Bank conducted annual risk assessments, specialized assessments and post-risk evaluations. Through pre-assessment and post-evaluation, it promptly identified potential risks and efficiently implemented the rectification process, thereby providing effective support for scientific decision-making by the management.

The Bank continuously improved its dynamic monitoring and early warning disposal mechanisms for information technology risk, and consistently enhanced the systematic, forward-looking and effective risk monitoring. By optimizing the risk monitoring system, the Bank has established a monitoring system covering the information system operations, information security, outsourcing management, business continuity, and the application of emerging technologies. Regular risk monitoring and analysis were conducted to strengthen the closed-loop management covering risk early warning, problem tracking, and rectification, thereby ensuring overall control of information technology risks.

During the Reporting Period, the Bank's information technology risk was stable and controllable.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

10.6 Reputational Risk Management

During the Reporting Period, the Bank maintained a dual emphasis on the prevention and disposal of reputational risk, and upheld the principles of “forward-looking”, “matching”, “full coverage” and “effectiveness” to continually enhance its full-process risk prevention and incident response capabilities. Through the optimization of closed-loop management system encompassing the full process of “monitoring – early warning – disposal – rectification”, the Bank enhanced its 24/7 monitoring mechanism and dedicated emergency response plans to prudently handle public opinion of concern and facilitate the ongoing optimization of institutional mechanisms. The Bank intensified its efforts to implement regular risk investigations and risk list tracking mechanisms, conducted regular targeted investigations into potential risks, and advanced root-cause rectification, ensuring the early identification, warning, and resolution of risk hazards. By organizing specialized trainings and conducting “double-blind” practical exercises, the Bank comprehensively examined and enhanced its overall emergency response and handling capabilities, thereby heightening the awareness of preventing reputational risk among all employees. Meanwhile, with a focus on the implementation of the spirit of the Central Financial Work Conference, the execution of “five priorities (technology finance, green finance, inclusive finance, pension finance and digital finance)”, the publication of annual results announcement, and significant internal events, the Bank carried out a series of themed publicity through innovative communication channels, proactively demonstrating the Bank’s good image of serving the real economy and maintaining prudent operations.

During the Reporting Period, the Bank’s reputational risk was stable and controllable.

10.7 Exchange Rate Risk Management

During the Reporting Period, the Bank incorporated full-book exchange rate risk into the market risk capital measurement under strict compliance with regulatory requirements. The Bank maintained its prudent risk preference, closely monitored the changing trend of exchange rates, proactively analyzed the fluctuation of global exchange rate market, formulated staged foreign exchange hedging strategies, smoothed the hedging cost, and reduced foreign exchange exposure risk. The Bank formulated foreign exchange quota indicators, conducted the quota review on a regular basis to compact the exchange rate risk tolerance, paid continuous attention to the exposure positions of various foreign currencies held by the Bank during the daily management, carried out foreign exchange risk stress tests, and continuously managed foreign exchange business and quota.

During the Reporting Period, the Bank’s exchange rate risk was stable and controllable.

10.8 ESG Risk Management

In recent years, the Bank has actively undertaken environmental and social responsibilities, so as to improve its ESG performance constantly. By advancing the construction of the ESG risk management system, the Bank deeply integrated the concept of sustainable development into its corporate governance and strategic decision-making. The Board of Directors and its special committees played a pivotal role in significant ESG decision-making and oversight, while actively participating in pertinent training and promoting the concept of ESG to comprehensively enhance the understanding and practice of ESG management across the Bank.

At the business level, the Bank effectively strengthened ESG risk management across industries and actively implemented the national green development policies. By optimizing the allocation of credit resources, the Bank placed emphasis on directing financial resources towards green sectors, such as energy conservation and environmental protection, and strategic emerging industries. Priority support was afforded to industries and projects which were in alignment with ESG principles, and characterized by low energy consumption, low emission, low pollution and sound market prospects, thereby demonstrating the Bank’s firm commitment to advancing the green and low-carbon transformation of the economy and society.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

11 OPERATING STRATEGIES AND PROSPECTS FOR DEVELOPMENT

2025 marks a pivotal year when China concluded its “14th Five-Year Plan” and built momentum to kick off the “15th Five-Year Plan”. It is also a crucial juncture for Zhongyuan Bank, marking the completion of its first decade of leapfrog development and the beginning of a new journey. Despite the dual challenges of weakening global economic growth momentum and deepening domestic structural adjustments, China remained committed to the new development philosophy and advanced high-quality development. China ranks among the world’s fastest-growing major economies in terms of GDP, and its economy is showing a sound development momentum of innovation-driven improvement, with higher quality and efficiency. Meanwhile, it also faces challenges of our times: further efforts are still required to keep stimulating domestic demand, alleviate lingering employment pressures, and further consolidate the foundation for economic recovery and growth. In the era of accelerating changes unseen in a century, the banking industry confronts the dual challenges of a complex and volatile external environment and insufficient effective internal demand, while simultaneously embracing strategic opportunities presented by coordinated policy efforts and the accelerated cultivation of new quality productive forces.

In 2026, Zhongyuan Bank will continue to follow the guidance of Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, thoroughly study and implement the guiding principles from the 20th CPC National Congress and the plenary sessions of the 20th CPC Central Committee, and act on the guidelines of the Central Economic Work Conference. Anchored by the major requirements of “Two High-level Priorities and Four Areas of Emphasis (兩高四著力)” and focusing on the “1+2+4+N” goal framework of the Henan Provincial Committee of the CPC, the Bank will fully support the construction of “a strong province in six areas (六個強省)”, accelerate its differentiated development through characteristic operations, forge new core competitiveness, and serve as the pioneer of financial reform in Henan Province.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

I. Deepen its “Four Banks” strategy to empower the real economy. Firstly, optimize its banking services for the government. Based on its position as a provincial corporate bank, the Bank will focus on the implementation of major strategies, proactively coordinate key projects, and strengthen financial support for national and provincial strategies. It will deepen the “headquarters-to-headquarters” government-bank cooperation, upgrade its financial advisory services for the government, assist in resolving local government debt, support the construction of a “digital government”, and set a benchmark for integrated services encompassing “financial intelligence + financing + technology”, fulfilling its financial responsibility in serving the overall economic development of Henan Province. Secondly, solidify its industry-oriented banking services. It will provide differentiated services throughout the entire lifecycle of technological innovation enterprises, and expand its offering of specialized credit products; focus on regional characteristic industries, develop exclusive service solutions, and strengthen support for green finance and the cultural tourism industry. Prioritizing leading enterprises in the industrial chain, the Bank will extend its services to upstream and downstream players, and build an industrial service ecosystem with diversified financial products to facilitate the transformation of traditional industries, the ascent of emerging industries, and the rapid growth of future industries. Thirdly, strengthen its banking services for citizens. Adhering to its original aspiration of serving the people through finance, the Bank will develop a differentiated service system for specific customer groups such as new citizens, entrepreneurs, and the elderly. It will improve the framework of product benefits and promote online credit and wealth management products; strengthen online and offline collaboration, establish star-rated offline branches and specialized sub-branches, and iterate online channel functionalities, in an effort to enhance service quality and efficiency. It will also upgrade the framework of customer benefits by integrating resources from lifestyle scenarios and fostering an engaging local community ecosystem, aiming to achieve deep integration of finance and daily life and make financial services readily accessible. Fourthly, expand its banking services for rural revitalization. The Bank will seize the opportunity presented by building a strong agricultural province and deploy resources to county-level areas. In line with county-level development plans, the Bank will further promote the mode of “three major industries at the county level (一縣三產)”, innovate specialized credit products, and increase support for food security and related areas. It will enhance county-level grid-based management and online promotion channels, optimize its branch network, and enrich the functionalities of its “Rural Online” platform. The Bank will strengthen resources and personnel support at the county level to establish benchmark sub-branches, share best practices, and unlock the potential of the county-level market.

II. Strengthen basic capabilities building to solidify the foundation for development. Firstly, improve the corporate governance system. The Bank will facilitate the integration of CPC leadership and its corporate governance, optimize its corporate governance structure, improve the quality and efficiency of duties performance. Greater efforts will be made to rectify the issues identified in governance assessment, ensuring the Bank’s robust development with high-standard governance. Secondly, enhance its professional services capability. By establishing regular training and certification mechanisms and promoting the “Learning by Doing (幹中學)” model, the Bank aims to strengthen its capability to apply digital intelligence technology such as artificial intelligence (AI), thereby transforming staff headcount into development momentum. Thirdly, optimize its performance evaluation system. The Bank will align the performance evaluation system with its strategies and optimize its remuneration distribution structure, rewarding grassroots and front-line positions and positions with significant value contribution. The Bank will refine a precise accountability and reasonable fault-tolerance mechanism, while improving the dual-track promotion path for management and professional roles, to stimulate the intrinsic motivation for entrepreneurship across the Bank. Fourthly, further advance the “Three Light” transformation. The Bank will adhere to a development model characterized by light asset, light capital and light cost, keep optimizing its asset-liability structure, and expand revenue growth sources for its light-capital business; refine cost control to enhance operational efficiency; deepen technological empowerment by expanding application scenarios of AI and automation technology, with a view to driving efficiency improvement through digital intelligence transformation.

Chapter 5 Management Discussion and Analysis

III. Deepen the reform to defuse risks and solidify the foundation of security. Firstly, make targeted efforts to control new exposure while addressing the existing ones. The Bank will maintain a prudent risk appetite, implement differentiated authorization, and clarify the bottom line for credit origination. By building a closed-loop risk control system covering the entire process, innovating the pathways for non-performing asset disposal and implementing classified policies to resolve risks in key areas, the Bank is committed to safeguarding the lifeline of asset quality. Secondly, efficiently advance the reforms of its subsidiaries. The Bank will continue to advance the reform of its rural banks to defuse risks and accelerate the business transformation and development of its subsidiaries. By strengthening intra-group collaboration, the Bank aims to increase the revenue and profit contribution of its subsidiaries to the parent bank, achieving synergistic development. Thirdly, refine internal control and compliance management. By promoting grid-based compliance management, improving the compliance management system, embedding compliance requirements into the entire business process, and continuously improving the consumer protection mechanism to strengthen consumer rights protection, the Bank is seeking to raise its regulatory ratings. The Bank will balance development and security, improve its emergency plans and strengthen public opinion management to build a solid security defense line.

As the tide surges forward, success only favors those who boldly forge ahead; despite the perilous obstacles, those who take the initiative triumph. In 2026, Zhongyuan Bank will examine its position in this era with a broader vision, serve the overall development with more pragmatic measures, integrate its own growth into the magnificent journey of the rise of central China, and hone its core competitiveness in serving the real economy and in the reform to defuse risks, with the ambition of contributing tremendous financial power to writing a new chapter in the Chinese-style modernization of central China.

The Board believes that the Bank has achieved gender diversity across the workforce (including senior management). During the Reporting Period, the Board was not aware of any factors and circumstances that would make achieving gender diversity across the workforce (including senior management) more challenging or less relevant.

Chapter 7 Directors, Supervisors, Senior Management, Employees and Institutions

8.2 Remuneration Policies

The remuneration management of the Bank adheres to employee-centered, efficiency-oriented and performance-based principles with due consideration to fairness. According to the relevant laws and regulations and industry regulatory requirements, the remuneration structure has been designed based on the concept of paying for capabilities, responsibilities and contributions (為能力付薪、為責任付薪、為貢獻付薪), and a sound remuneration management system and a scientific and reasonable incentive and restraint mechanism have been established.

The Bank gave full play to the guiding role of remuneration in operation and risk management and control. In accordance with the principle of combining immediate incentives with long-term incentives and combining effective incentives and responsibility constraints, the Bank implemented deferred payment of performance-based remuneration for applicable personnel, and improved the management measures of relevant performance recovery and deduction, so as to further motivate the senior management and employees' stable operation and sustainable long-term development of the Bank. During the Reporting Period, the Bank's performance-based resource deductions amounted to RMB13.5715 million.

The relevant remuneration management system of the Bank should be submitted to the Standing Party Committee of the Bank, Employees' Representative Meeting, Nomination and Remuneration Committee under the Board and the Board of Directors for review. The Bank did not have any equity incentive plan or employee share ownership plan during the Reporting Period.

8.3 Training Programs

Based on the business development strategy and under the people-oriented philosophy, the Bank developed its education and training plans. The Bank implemented a management mechanism of unified principles and plans, hierarchical management and classified implementation for employee training, established a hierarchical training system of "navigating, voyaging, piloting, sailing" (領航、遠航、引航、啟航) and managed the trainings in accordance with a three-tier training system comprising "head office, branch, sub-branch (sector)" (總、分、支). During the Reporting Period, the head office held a total of 163 training sessions with a total of 72,600 participants and 4.11 trainings per head, basically covering all employees; 18 branches organized 745 training sessions, with a total of 104,500 participants.

During the Reporting Period, the Bank's training work focused on enhancing the comprehensive capability of key personnel and the capacity of all staff in the Bank to fulfill their job description. The Bank implemented comprehensive capability enhancement training programs for key personnel such as the middle and senior management, heads of secondary departments, heads of branch departments, presidents at the sub-branch level, outstanding employees and newly recruited college graduates. At the same time, it comprehensively covered core businesses such as corporate, retail, interbank, risk and compliance, and promoted the enhancement of job skills for all employees in the Bank. The Bank encouraged all employees in the Bank to utilize their spare time for self-directed learning, with learning time on the online learning platform reaching 1,160,000 hours in total. The Bank conducted a total of 1,941 online examinations, effectively promoting the enhancement of staff capacity and laying a solid talent foundation for the Bank's sustainable development.

Chapter 8 Corporate Governance Report

2 Summary of Organizational Structure of Corporate Governance

In strict compliance with the requirements of domestic and foreign laws and regulations, the Bank actively built a sound corporate governance structure, committed to building an excellent corporate governance mechanism, continuously enhanced the quality and efficiency of corporate governance, and promoted the high-quality development of various businesses of the Bank, so as to safeguard shareholders' interests and enhance the corporate values. The Bank has established a comprehensive corporate governance structure in accordance with the requirements under the Hong Kong Listing Rules. The compositions of the Board and its special committees complied with the requirements under the Hong Kong Listing Rules. The responsibilities are clearly split among the shareholders' general meeting, the Board and the senior management. The shareholders' general meeting is the authority of the Bank, which exercises its powers pursuant to the laws. The Board shall be accountable to the shareholders' general meeting, and our Bank currently has six special committees under the Board. The special committees are operated under the leadership of the Board and provide advice on the decision-making of the Board. The senior management of the Bank works under the leadership of the Board, which is responsible for the implementation of the resolutions of the Board and the daily business operations of the Bank and is required to report to the Board on a regular basis. The president of the Bank shall be appointed by the Board and shall be accountable to the Board, which is responsible for the overall business operation and management of the Bank.

As of the end of the Reporting Period, the Bank strictly complied with the code provisions set out in the Corporate Governance Code and the Hong Kong Listing Rules in relation to the disclosure of inside information. The Directors were not aware of any information indicating that the Bank had not complied with the code provisions set out in the Corporate Governance Code during the Reporting Period. The Bank will continue to review and enhance corporate governance to ensure that our corporate governance complies with the requirements under the Corporate Governance Code and to achieve a higher expectation from the Shareholders and investors.

Culture and Values

The Bank steadfastly follows the guidance of Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, deeply grasps the core essence of financial culture with Chinese characteristics, and sets its sights on the goal of "building a first class city commercial bank, being a leader of financial institutions in Henan Province" set forth by the Henan Provincial Party Committee and the provincial government. Focused on the "Two High-level Priorities and Four Areas of Emphasis (兩高四著力)" development strategy of Henan Province and centered on our mission and positioning of "people's own bank in central China", the Bank earnestly practices the political and people-oriented nature of financial work. The Bank actively cultivates a financial culture with Chinese characteristics and abides by the principle of "Five Do's and Five Don'ts (五要五不)". We will adhere to the strategy advocating that under the Party's leadership and with the support of the party committee and government, we will continue to function as a bank within a market economy environment, with dual focus on asset quality and business performance. We will spare no effort in supporting the practice of Chinese-style modernization in Henan Province, making new and greater contributions to creating a more brilliant chapter of Zhongyuan Bank in the new era and on the new journey.

Chapter 8 Corporate Governance Report

Independence Mechanism

The Bank has adopted a number of mechanisms to ensure that independent views and opinions are available to the Board, including a procedure to engage independent specialised institutions for provision of independent professional advice at the Bank's expense if the Directors think necessary.

During the Reporting Period, the Board has reviewed the implementation and effectiveness of the above mechanisms and considers them to be effective.

Board Diversity Policy

The increasing diversity at the Board level is the key factor for the Bank to achieve its sustainable development, fulfill its strategic objectives and maintain good corporate governance.

In setting the composition of the Board members, the Bank shall consider the diversity of the Board members from several aspects, including but not limited to gender, age, regional and industrial experience, skills, knowledge and educational background. All Board members' appointments will be based on meritocracy, and candidates will be considered against objective criteria, with due regard given to the benefits of diversity of the Board members. Selection of candidates for the Board will be based on a range of diversity perspectives, including but not limited to gender, age, regional and industrial experience, skills, knowledge and educational background. In order to maintain the gender diversity of the Board in the coming years, the Bank will (i) consider the possibility of nominating female senior management who have the necessary skills and experience to the Board; (ii) ensure that there is gender diversity when recruiting staff; and (iii) engage more resources in training female staff with the aim of promoting them to the senior management or Directors of the Bank.

The Board is responsible for regularly reviewing the relevant diversity policy to ensure that it can be in line with the needs of the Bank, reflecting regulatory requirements and sound corporate governance practices; the Nomination and Remuneration Committee of the Board reviews the structure, size and composition (including the skills, knowledge and experience) of the Board annually and takes full account of the requirements of the Board diversity policy when nominating candidates for directors.

The Bank has always adhered to the Board diversity policy. As of the date of this annual report, 22% of the Board members were female (2 female Directors out of 9 Directors), and all Directors have a master's degree or above. The Nomination and Remuneration Committee of the Board and the Board considered that the Board composition was balanced and diversified (including gender diversity). Therefore, no measurable objectives are set for the implementation of the Board diversity policy.

Board Diversity	No. of Directors	Proportion of Board Members

The Board shall hold at least four regular Board meetings annually convened by the chairman of the Board. Notices of the Board meetings shall be sent to all Directors in writing fourteen (14) days before the meeting, and the meeting documents shall be sent to all Directors ten (10) days before the meeting. The Board and the senior management of the Bank have established a good communication mechanism. All proposals submitted to the Board meeting are subject to careful review and active discussion by all Directors before making a decision.

All Directors keep in contact with the secretary to the Board and the company secretary, to ensure compliance with board procedures and all applicable rules and regulations. Detailed minutes of Board meetings are kept, and minutes of the meetings are kept by the secretary to the Board, and are available for review by directors at any time. A communication and reporting mechanism has been established between the Board, Directors and senior management of the Bank. The president reports his work to the Board on a regular basis, and is supervised by the Board. Relevant senior executives are invited to attend Board meetings from time to time to provide explanations or reply to enquiries. At Board meetings, Directors can express their opinions freely, and major decisions shall only be made after thorough discussion. Directors may also follow certain procedures to engage independent specialised institutions at the Bank's expense, for provision of independent professional advice, if they deem necessary. If any Director has material interest in a proposal to be considered by the Board, such Director should abstain from discussion and voting on the relevant proposal, and will not be counted in the quorum of the relevant proposal.

The Board has set up an office as its daily working organization, which is responsible for preparing the shareholders' general meeting, the Board meetings and all the meetings of special committees under the Board, and is responsible for implementing all the matters assigned by the shareholders' general meeting, the Board and the special committees under the Board.

The Board and the senior management of the Bank exercise their authority in accordance with the requirements under our Articles of Association, and the Board of the Bank performs regular discussion on risk management and internal control system annually, including financial, operational and compliance controls. The Board believes that the risk management and internal control system established and implemented by the Bank is sufficient and effective.

4.8 Independent Non-Executive Directors

The Board of the Bank currently has 5 independent non-executive Directors with a term of 3 years, which complies with the relevant requirements under the Hong Kong Listing Rules.

Independent non-executive Directors of the Bank undertake the obligation to observe the principle of good faith in accordance with the relevant applicable laws and the Articles of Association, to safeguard the interests of the Bank as a whole, and particularly ensure that the legitimate rights and interests of depositors and minority shareholders of the Bank are not prejudiced. Independent non-executive Director performs the duties and responsibilities independently, without any interference by controlling shareholders of the Bank, or other entities or individuals who have a material interest in the Bank. The independent non-executive Directors of the Bank also attended the annual general meeting of the Bank to listen to shareholders' opinions. In addition, they have also contributed positively to the development of the Bank's strategy and policies by providing independent, constructive and informed advice. During the Reporting Period, the Chairman of the Bank held one meeting with independent non-executive Directors in the absence of other Directors.

The independent non-executive Directors of the Bank have not raised any objections to the resolutions passed at the Board meetings or meetings of special committees during the Reporting Period.

4.9 Appointment, Re-election and Removal of Directors

The Bank's appointment, re-election and removal of Directors are subject to the requirements of the Hong Kong Listing Rules and the Bank's Articles of Association. The Nomination and Remuneration Committee of the Board of the Bank conducts a preliminary verification of the qualifications and conditions of candidates for Directors, and proposes the qualified candidates to the Board of Directors for consideration. After the Board considered and approved, the candidates for the Board will be presented to the shareholders' general meeting by way of written proposal. The Bank's shareholders' general meeting may, through ordinary resolutions, appoint relevant persons who meet the qualifications as Directors. For independent non-executive Director candidates, the Nomination and Remuneration Committee of the Board will conduct a qualification review before the appointment, focusing on independence, expertise, experience and ability.

The term of office of the Directors (including non-executive Directors) of the Bank is three years and Directors can be re-elected and re-appointed upon expiration. The renewal term of independent non-executive Directors shall not exceed six years.

Subject to relevant laws and administrative regulations, the shareholders' general meeting may, in accordance with Articles 102 and 116 of the Bank's Articles of Association, remove any Directors whose term of office has not expired by an ordinary resolution before the expiration of the term of the Directors.

12.3 Shareholders' Rights and Communication Policy

Procedure for Shareholders to Convene Extraordinary General Meeting

The Bank strictly complies with the applicable laws and regulations, the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the Articles of Association of the Bank and the corporate governance system, for practically safeguarding the rights of the Shareholders. Pursuant to the requirements under the Articles of Association of the Bank and the rules of procedures of the shareholders' general meeting: the shareholders' general meeting shall be convened by the Board of Directors in accordance with the provisions of the Articles. If the Board of Directors is unable or fails to perform its duty in convening a shareholders' general meeting, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors shall promptly convene the meeting. If the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors does not convene the meeting, the shareholders who individually or jointly hold above 10% in total of the Bank's voting shares for above ninety (90) consecutive days may convene such a meeting on their own initiative. The Requesting Shareholders shall have the right to request the Board of Directors to convene Shareholders' General Meetings and shall propose their motions to the Board of Directors in writing. The Board of Directors shall, in accordance with the laws, administrative regulations and the Articles, make a written response as to whether or not it agrees to convene the Shareholders' General Meetings within ten (10) days of receiving the proposal. If the Board of Directors agrees to convene Shareholders' General Meetings, a notice convening such meetings shall be issued within five (5) days after the resolution of the Board of Directors is passed. If the original request contained in the notice is changed, approval of the relevant shareholders shall be sought. If the Board of Directors does not agree to convene the Shareholders' General Meetings, or fails to give its response within ten (10) days of receiving the proposal, Requesting Shareholders shall have the right to propose to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors to convene the Shareholders' General Meetings and this proposal shall be made to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors in writing. If the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors agrees to convene the Shareholders' General Meetings, a notice for convening such meetings shall be issued within five (5) days of receiving the proposal. If the original request contained in the notice is changed, approval of the relevant Shareholders shall be sought. If the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors fails to give the notice of Shareholders' General Meetings within the specified time limit, it shall be deemed to have failed to convene or preside over the Shareholders' General Meetings, and Convening Shareholders shall have the right to convene and preside over such meetings by themselves.

Shareholders may refer to the Articles of Association of the Bank published on the websites of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the Bank for further details.

Procedure of Proposing a Resolution at the Shareholders' General Meeting

Shareholders individually or in aggregate holding 3% or more of the Bank's voting shares may propose an interim proposal and submit it to the convener in written form ten days before the general meeting. The convener shall review such proposal, issue a supplemental notice of the shareholders' general meeting and announce the proposal if it satisfies the provisions as specified in the Articles of Association of the Bank within two days after receiving the proposal. If the Hong Kong Listing Rules specify otherwise, the procedures of submitting a proposal to the shareholders' general meeting shall follow such provisions. Except as provided in the precedent paragraph, the convener shall not alter the proposals in the notice of the shareholders' general meeting or add new proposals after the issuance of the notice of the shareholders' general meeting. Shareholders may refer to the Articles of Association of the Bank published on the websites of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the Bank for further details.

15 Risk Management and Internal Control

The Board of Directors is responsible for making the risk management and internal control policies and bears the ultimate responsibility for overall risk management. Taking into account that the purpose of the internal control system monitoring is to manage rather than eliminate the risk of failure to achieve business objectives, the Board of Directors can only reasonably, but not absolutely, guarantee that the above systems and internal controls will protect against any material misrepresentation or loss. The Board shall guarantee a review of internal control and risk management system at least once a year. The Bank evaluated the overall risk situation on a quarterly basis and the quality of internal control on an annual basis.

During the Reporting Period, the Board of Directors has reviewed the risk management and internal control policies of the Bank as well as the implementation and effectiveness of such policies and considers them effective. The Board of Directors has also obtained confirmation from the management on the effectiveness of the Bank's risk management. During the review, the Board did not identify any significant concerns. During the Reporting Period, the Bank did not make any changes to its risk management and internal control policies.

Chapter 8 Corporate Governance Report

15.1 Risk Management

In accordance with the requirements of laws and regulations such as the Commercial Banking Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國商業銀行法》) and Internal Control Guidelines for Commercial Banks (《商業銀行內部控制指引》), the Bank established a standardized corporate governance structure and defined the scope of rights, division of responsibilities and rules of procedure for the Standing Committee of the Party Committee and the shareholders' general meeting, the Board of Directors and the senior management.

Based on the Administrative Measures for the Capital of Commercial Banks and its schedules, risks and relevant terminology defined by the Basel Committee, practice of the domestic and overseas peers as well as its own actual situation, the Bank identifies various overall quantitative and non-quantitative risks which may arise from the interaction between business strategies, product portfolios, client demands and the external macroeconomic environment. Taking into account the capital occupancy based on risk types, risks of banks determined by regulators and capital regulatory requirements, the Bank collects and publishes risk warnings, draws up risk event examples, identifies, collects and assesses risk events and then determines material risks for the purpose of identifying its material risks, such as credit risk, market risk, operational risk, liquidity risk, interest risk in bank accounts, compliance risk, legal risk and reputational risk, and subsequently making assessment and analysis as well as monitoring, reporting, controlling and releasing the risks faced by the Bank with risk measurement approaches and techniques.

15.2 Internal Control

Based on the principles of full coverage, checks and balances, prudence and compatibility, the Bank has established a relatively scientific and standardized internal control system in accordance with relevant laws and regulations, such as the Commercial Banking Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國商業銀行法》) and the Internal Control Guidelines for Commercial Banks (《商業銀行內部控制指引》), and the relevant requirements of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, aiming to ensure consistent compliance with relevant laws, regulations and rules of the PRC, the application of the Bank's development strategies and the accomplishment of its operating objectives, the accuracy and completeness of the Bank's financial information and other management information, and the effectiveness of the risk management of the Bank. The Bank continues to implement and optimize the defense mechanism comprising three lines for internal control. The first line of defense for internal control consists of various branches and operating units, which are the first person responsible for risks and control, and have to undertake self-risk control functions in the course of their business operation, including the formulation and implementation of policies, the business examination, the reporting of control deficiencies and the implementation of rectification measures. The second line of defense for internal control consists of the internal control and risk management departments at all levels, which are responsible for the overall planning, organizing and implementing, and examining and assessing of risk management and internal control. The third line of defense for internal control consists of the audit department, which is responsible for the functions, including performing internal audit on the adequacy and effectiveness of internal control and risk management.

Chapter 8 Corporate Governance Report

The Bank continues to promote the culture building of internal control compliance and actively organizes compliance training courses and publicity activities for all of its staff, with a view to refining its long-term policy on compliance education, and further enhancing the effectiveness of its internal control through continuously organizing case warning and education activities, and special trainings on compliance and campaigns at different levels throughout the Bank.

15.3 Internal Auditing

During the Reporting Period, the Bank's internal audit function, under the leadership of the Board of Directors and its Audit Committee, remained anchored to the central themes of "risk orientation, technological empowerment and value creation". By adopting a systematic approach to elevate practical implementation and activating governance effectiveness through collaboration, the function fully aligned with policy direction and the Bank's strategic deployment, thereby establishing a robust supervisory safeguard for high-quality development.

Constructing the audit framework based on systematic thinking. The Bank upheld alignment between compliance fundamentals and strategic direction, establishing an audit logic framework that spans all aspects of governance, risk and control, rigorously adhering to the latest regulatory requirements, and continuously enhancing our independent and vertical management structure. By combining professional expertise with collaborative empowerment, the Bank innovated work models, deepened multi-party coordination, promoted the efficient integration of supervisory resources, and achieved an evolution from isolated supervision to systematic governance.

Empowering high-quality development with strategic perspective. The Bank remained focused on high-quality development as our core objective, concentrating on key business domains and regulatory focus areas, conducting forward-looking and comprehensive audit supervision, and supporting the effective implementation of the Bank's strategic initiatives. With governance optimization as the central objective, the Bank strengthened full-process supervision over key processes and the operation of authority, propelling the audit function from risk prevention and control to value empowerment and thereby providing precise support for business decision-making.

Chapter 8 Corporate Governance Report

Driving innovation in audit models through the technological empowerment. With digital transformation as the principal pathway, the Bank promoted the deep integration of technology and audit operations, reconstructing audit processes and analytical logic, continually expanding the reach of audit, and progressively advancing from manpower-intensive methods to intelligent audit operations.

Enhancing overall governance efficacy through closed-loop management. The Bank established a full-process mechanism for transforming audit outcomes, ensuring audit findings are accurately translated into concrete measures for institutional improvement and process optimization, thereby reinforcing the guiding role of audit in business management. The Bank also enhanced the assessment linkage mechanism, reinforced rectification responsibilities, fully leveraged the core value of “promoting management and governance through audit”, and continuously advanced the iterative upgrading of the Bank’s governance capabilities.

15.4 Anti-money Laundering

During the Reporting Period, the Bank strictly complied with the Anti-money Laundering Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國反洗錢法》) and other applicable laws and regulations promulgated by institutions, including the People’s Bank of China, National Financial Regulatory Administration. The Bank consistently adhered to the “risk-based” working idea for anti-money laundering, established a comprehensive mechanism of anti-money laundering work, improved internal control systems, continuously optimized the supervision and reporting systems of anti-money laundering, proactively carried out the publicity and training for anti-money laundering and effectively performed all anti-money laundering obligations as required by the law.

By establishing new supervision and reporting systems of anti-money laundering, the Bank effectively enhanced the operational efficiency of the anti-money laundering system and the level of big data intelligent monitoring, thereby significantly improving the accuracy of suspicious activity monitoring and customer risk assessment. The Bank continued to promote customer information governance, focusing on key tasks such as customer due diligence and suspicious identification, thereby consolidating the basic work of anti-money laundering. The Bank carried out various anti-money laundering on-site inspections and money laundering risk investigations. In view of the problems found in inspection, the Bank timely carried out root rectification by improving the system, optimizing the system and process, etc., thus improving the ability to manage and control money laundering risks. In terms of team building, the Bank carried out multi-level training, covering leaders at all levels of the Bank and anti-money laundering staff, comprehensively improving professional competence in performing anti-money laundering work. The Bank actively fulfilled its social responsibilities, regularly carrying out anti-money laundering publicity work to facilitate the enhancement of the public awareness of anti-money laundering and foster a good anti-money laundering social environment.

Chapter 8 Corporate Governance Report

15.5 Anti-Corruption

The Bank fully comprehends and promotes the contemporary connotation and practical orientation of “daring not to corrupt, being unable to corrupt, and having no desire to corrupt” in a holistic manner, and tightly grasps the practical path of simultaneous, homogeneous, and comprehensive efforts to constantly deepen strict party governance, adhere to strict governance and strengthen comprehensive supervision.

By deepening the systematic governance of special initiatives, the Bank has made continuous efforts in “daring not to corrupt”. Special rectification is regarded as a key measure to purify the political environment and promote a transformation in work style, with focused inspections conducted on the thorough implementation of study and education regarding the spirit of the eight requirements of the central government, as well as a review of adherence to Party discipline. A dedicated initiative was organized to address violations of hospitality within government departments, leveraging targeted issue resolution to strengthen the development of work style in greater depth. Concentrated rectification and supervisory inspections on corruption in key areas were undertaken, fostering further progress in comprehensive and rigorous governance over the Party and the Bank.

By improving the mechanism of operation and restriction of power, the Bank has deepened and broadened in “being unable to corrupt”. The Bank has formulated the Work Plan of Zhongyuan Bank on Promoting Reform with Cases (《中原銀行深化以案促改工作方案》), identifying and advancing corrective measures in five key areas: the weakening and superficialization of Party leadership, lax and ineffective governance over the Party and the Bank, prominent issues of new and covert forms of corruption, disorder in institutional frameworks and failure of internal controls, and inadequate efforts to prevent and resolve financial risks. The Bank has incorporated the theme of promoting reform with case into democratic life meetings, conducted comparative inspections focused on specific cases, conducted in-depth analyses of the root causes of identified issues, and established a closed-loop remedial mechanism encompassing “case investigation – warning education – special rectification – institutional improvement – conduct correction”, thereby effectively enhancing the quality and efficacy of corrective measures. The Bank has strengthened the governance of integrity risks at source, innovated by establishing mechanisms for integrity review of key institutional areas, eliminated potential integrity risks from the outset, curtailed opportunities for rent-seeking, and realized a shift in emphasis from “post-event punishment” to “pre-event prevention and in-process control”.

Chapter 8 Corporate Governance Report

By building up a sound culture of integrity and corruption rejection, the Bank has consolidated and upgraded in “having no desire to corrupt”. The Bank has organized a bank-wide warning and educational conference, conducted collective integrity interviews with newly appointed leaders and key personnel, and enhanced both the relevance and deterrent impact of educational initiatives. The Bank integrates integrity education with optimizing the organizational political ecosystem and stimulating the sense of responsibility among Party members and cadres, and abandons the traditional education model of “one-size-fits-all” and “large-scale lectures”. Warning education is conducted in a tiered and categorized manner, tailored to the specific positions and risk profiles of Party members and cadres within the organization. The Bank has compiled and published the Series of Typical Cases of Violations of the Spirit of the Eight Requirements of the Central Government (《違反中央八項規定精神典型案例系列》) integrity education handbook, and has produced and promoted integrity-themed Party lectures, including Strict Observance of Party’s Integrity Discipline and Holding the Line of Defense Against Corruption (《嚴明黨的廉潔紀律，守住拒腐防變防線》). The Bank ensures the effective performance of duties by branch discipline inspection commissioners, enhances their capabilities at grassroots level, and establishes a supervision network that is both comprehensive and far-reaching. Supervision is extended to the grassroots, activating the “nerve endings” of oversight at the local level.

16 Management of Inside Information

The Board of the Bank is responsible for disclosing information of the Bank, which includes enacting standard procedures and methods in relation thereto and reviewing information to be disclosed, and it also assumes liabilities for the truth, accuracy and completeness of the information disclosed. The information disclosure of the Bank is subject to the supervision of regulators and the Audit Committee of the Board of the Bank. Chairman of the Board is the primary person responsible for implementing the management measures for information disclosure, while the Secretary of the Board is in charge of its execution and the Board Office deals with the daily work thereof.

To ensure confidentiality of the Bank’s inside information, safeguard the fairness in information disclosure and protect the legal rights of investors, the Bank enacted the Measures for Information Disclosure Management in Zhongyuan Bank Co., Ltd. (《中原銀行股份有限公司信息披露辦法》) based on domestic and overseas laws, regulations and other normative documents such as the Company Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國公司法》), the Securities Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國證券法》), Measures for Information Disclosure of Commercial Banks (《商業銀行信息披露管理辦法》) and the Hong Kong Listing Rules and other regulatory documents. The Bank makes information disclosure and manages inside information in strict compliance with the regulatory requirements and specifies the principles, contents, management and procedures for information disclosure in the Measures for Information Disclosure Management in Zhongyuan Bank Co., Ltd., which also provides for the coverage, insider limits and the security management of inside information as well as punishment for divulging inside information, etc. When relevant events or circumstances arise, the Bank would quickly assess the possible impact on the stock price and consciously decide whether the events or circumstances are inside information that should be disclosed and conduct the relevant disclosure accordingly. During the Reporting Period, the Bank not only stringently complied with the regulatory requirements of domestic and overseas regulators, but also intensified its management rules and enhanced the security measures of its inside information as well as disclosed relevant information timely according to requirements.

Chapter 8 Corporate Governance Report

17 Dividend Policy

Article 208 and Article 211 of the Articles of Association of the Bank specify the requirements for profit distribution:

The Bank may make profit distribution if it has distributable profits for each year after making up for the losses, contributing to the statutory reserve, general reserve and paying dividends to the preference shareholders in accordance with the laws provided that the capital adequacy ratio of the Bank meets regulatory requirements. Where the accumulated amount of the statutory reserve fund of the Bank comes to more than 50% of the registered capital of the Bank, it is no longer necessary to set aside the statutory reserve fund. After setting aside the statutory reserve fund and general reserve, and paying dividends on preference shares, whether to set aside the discretionary reserve funds shall be determined by the shareholders' general meeting. The Bank shall not distribute profits to Shareholders before making up for the losses of the Bank and setting aside the statutory reserve funds and general reserves. The Bank may distribute dividend in the form of cash or share. The profit distribution of the Bank attaches the emphasis on the reasonable return on the investment of investors. The Bank may distribute dividend in the form of cash or share, distribution of dividends in form of stock shall be approved by the shareholders' general meeting and subject to approval by the banking regulatory authority of the State Council.

28 Equity Linked Agreement

In order to actively implement the government’s special debt policy of RMB8.0 billion, and enhance the Bank’s capital strength and risk resistance level, the Bank carried out the convertible negotiated deposit business to replenish its other tier-one capital and entered into convertible negotiated deposit agreement (the “Agreement”) with Zhengzhou Finance Bureau, an authority designated by the Finance Department of Henan Province.

The main contents of the Agreement are summarized as below:

- (1) after the Finance Department of Henan Province or its designated authorities collect the proceeds from issuance of the government’s special bonds, the Financial Department of Henan Province or its designated authorities will open a special account in the Bank for the convertible negotiated deposit for the purpose of receiving such funds;
- (2) with the consent of the Finance Department of Henan Province, when the core tier-one capital adequacy ratio of the Bank is lower than 5.125%, and upon the satisfaction of specific requirements on the Minimum Public Float prescribed by the Stock Exchange, the Finance Department of Henan Province or its designated authorities shall convert the convertible negotiated deposit into ordinary Shares of the Bank in accordance with laws and regulations as well as the Agreement;
- (3) if the conversion conditions are not fully satisfied, the Bank shall repay the principal and interest upon the maturity of the convertible negotiated deposit in accordance with the Agreement; and

Chapter 9 Report of the Board of Directors

- (4) during the term of the convertible negotiated deposit, the Bank shall report the changes in the core tier-one capital adequacy ratio of the previous quarter to the Finance Department of Henan Province or its designated authorities by the 20th day of the first month of each quarter. When the core tier-one capital adequacy ratio of the Bank drops to 7.5%, prewarning is triggered and the Bank shall promptly inform the Finance Department of Henan Province or its designated authorities of the situation, formulate emergency plans, and actively take appropriate measures to improve the ability of the Bank to resist risks and avoid the occurrence of triggering events. The term of the Agreement starts from the convertible negotiated deposit having been fully deposited into the Bank to the earlier of (i) the date of completion of the conversion of convertible negotiated deposit, or (ii) the expiry date of 10 years from the issuance date of the special bonds.

If the share conversion is triggered by relevant conditions, the Zhengzhou Finance Bureau will enter into a “Capital Injection Agreement” with the Bank and agree on the share conversion price.

The convertible negotiated deposit can be converted to a maximum of 8,000,000,000 H Shares of the Bank (taking up approximately 17.96% of the enlarged total share capital of the Bank), with a par value of RMB1.00 per Share, provided that the conditions for conversion are satisfied. Based on that and the conversion price of RMB1.00 per Share, the conversion will not result in a theoretical dilution effect. The Bank has complied with the theoretical dilution effect requirement in accordance with Rule 7.27B of the Listing Rules at the time of entering into the Agreement, and will ensure to comply with the theoretical dilution effect requirement in accordance with Rule 7.27B of the Listing Rules at the time of completion of the convertible negotiated deposit.

As of the date of this annual report, the conditions for conversion set out in the Agreement have not been met, and the Bank has not issued any shares in accordance with the Agreement. For details about the replenishment of other tier-one capital through the convertible negotiated deposit business, please refer to the circular of the Bank dated October 5, 2022 and announcement dated February 6, 2023.

Except for the above, during the Reporting Period, the Bank did not enter into or continue any other equity linked agreements.

Chapter 9 Report of the Board of Directors

32 Consumer Rights Protection

During the Reporting Period, the Bank adhered to the value orientation of “finance serving people (金融為民)” and promoted the improvement of consumer rights protection capabilities in all aspects. Through strategic mechanism optimization and efficiency improvement, the Bank created a consumer rights protection system covering the entire business chain and the entire service cycle. Firstly, the Bank strengthened strategic coordination and deepened governance effectiveness. The Board of Directors of the Bank, Consumer Rights Protection Committee, President’s Office Meeting and other decision-making bodies carries out overall planning and detailed deployment of consumer protection work, listens to and considers matters such as planning of consumer protection work, planning of financial knowledge education and publicity, quarterly reports on consumer protection work, regulatory notifications, and consumer protection regulatory ratings and rectification work reports, and makes guiding suggestions. Secondly, the Bank consolidated the institutional foundation and improved the governance system. In 2025, the Bank formulated three core systems of consumer rights protection, complaint handling, and consumer protection review, thus providing a more thorough institutional basis for consumer protection work. The Bank independently developed and launched the intelligent consumer protection system, further enhancing data analysis capabilities. Thirdly, the Bank strengthened the integration of publicity and education and practiced social responsibility. The Bank has organized and carried out “3.15 Financial Consumer Rights Day”, “5.15 Investor Day”, “Popularization of Financial Knowledge” and “Propaganda Week of Financial Education” and other special education and publicity activities. At the same time, institutions at all levels across the Bank independently carried out routine publicity and education activities during the Reporting Period and conducted a total of more than 5,700 activities, reaching over 8.02 million consumers, meeting consumers’ financial knowledge needs through multiple forms and enhancing consumers’ financial literacy. Fourthly, the Bank innovated management mechanisms and improved complaint management. The Bank strictly implemented regulatory requirements, continuously improved the complaint management system, smoothed complaint channels, and established a working mechanism of complaint acceptance, analysis, handling, feedback, and diversified dispute solutions to ensure that the Bank could conduct complaint handling work in a lawful and compliant manner and actively respond to consumers’ demands. The Bank has continued to implement staff training on consumer protection. In 2025, a total of 72 consumer protection training sessions were conducted across the Bank, benefiting over 14,000 staff and further enhancing the Bank’s capacity to safeguard consumer rights and interests. During the Reporting Period, the Bank received a total of 17,000 consumer complaints through all channels, equating to 6.06 complaints per 10,000 individual customers. In terms of business distribution, the majority of complaints related to credit cards and personal loans, accounting for 69.38% of all complaints. In terms of the consumer complaint regions, complaints were mainly concentrated in Zhengzhou, Luoyang, Pingdingshan, and other regions.

33 Compliance with Relevant Laws and Regulations

The Bank has adopted internal control measures to monitor ongoing compliance with relevant laws and regulations, such as the Companies Ordinance (Chapter 622 of the Laws of Hong Kong), the SFO, the Hong Kong Listing Rules and other rules and regulations implemented in relevant jurisdictions. During the year, to the knowledge of the Board, the Group has complied in material aspects with the relevant laws and regulations that have a significant impact on the business and operation of the Group for the financial year ended December 31, 2025. During the Reporting Period, as far as the Board is concerned, the Group has complied in material aspects with the relevant laws and regulations that have a significant impact on the business and operation of the Group. 36 Important Events since the End of the Reporting Period

On March 27, 2026, each of the board of directors of AB Leasing Co., Ltd. (邦銀金融租賃股份有限公司) (“AB Leasing”, a subsidiary of the Bank and was owned as to 90% by the Bank) and the board of directors of BOL Financial Leasing Co., Ltd. (洛銀金融租賃股份有限公司) (“BOL Financial Leasing”, a subsidiary of the Bank and was owned as to 57.5% by the Bank) passed the resolutions on the initiation of procedures for the absorption and merger of BOL Financial Leasing by AB Leasing (the “Potential Absorption and Merger”). If the Potential Absorption and Merger proceeds, it may constitute a notifiable transaction and a connected transaction for the Bank under Chapters 14 and 14A of the Listing Rules. However, there is no guarantee that the parties will enter into final agreements. The Bank will make further announcement(s) in due course and comply with the applicable provisions of the Listing Rules.

Save as mentioned above, since the end of the Reporting Period and until the date of this annual report, there was no important event affecting the Bank.

37 Other Matters

As far as the Board is aware, the Bank has complied in material respects with the relevant laws and regulations that have a significant impact on the business and operation of the Bank. In the meantime, the Bank is committed to the long-term sustainability of the environment and communities in which it operates. Acting in an environmentally responsible manner, the Bank endeavors to comply with laws and regulations regarding environmental protection and adopt effective measures to achieve efficient use of resources, energy saving and waste reduction.

As of the date of this report, the Bank was not aware that any Shareholders had waived or agreed to waive any dividends arrangement.

As of the date of this report, none of the Directors of the Bank waived or agreed to waive any emoluments arrangement.

During the Reporting Period, the Bank had no controlling Shareholders or de facto controllers, and therefore the Bank did not have any controlling Shareholder to pledge the Bank’s Shares to provide guarantee for the Bank’s debts or otherwise provide support for the pledge thereof.

The Bank will publish an environmental, social and governance report for the Reporting Period, as and when appropriate, in compliance with the provisions under the Environmental, Social and Governance Reporting Guide set out in Appendix C2 to the Hong Kong Listing Rules.

Chapter 10 Important Events

1 Use of Proceeds

On September 19, 2024, the Bank issued the 2024 special financial bonds for loans to small and micro enterprises with an issue size of RMB5 billion in the national inter-bank bond market in the PRC. The bonds are 3-year fixed interest rate bonds with a coupon rate of 2.1%. The proceeds are specially used to issue loans to small and micro enterprises in accordance with applicable laws and approvals by the regulatory authorities. Please refer to the announcement of the Bank dated September 20, 2024 for details.

On July 10, 2024, the Bank publicly issued 2024 tier 2 capital bonds of Zhongyuan Bank Co., Ltd. (the first tranche) in the national inter-bank bond market in the PRC. The issuance size of the Bonds is RMB8 billion and the type is fixed rate bonds for a term of 10 years. The issuer shall have a conditional redemption right at the end of the fifth year with the coupon rate of 2.35%. The proceeds are used to replenish the Bank's tier 2 capital in accordance with applicable laws and approvals by the regulatory authorities. As at December 31, 2025, such bond has not been redeemed. Please refer to the announcement of the Bank dated July 11, 2024 for details.

On August 15, 2023, the Bank publicly issued the 2023 undated capital bonds (the first tranche) with an issuing size of RMB10 billion in the national inter-bank bond market in the PRC. The coupon rate is 4.6% with an issuing price of RMB100 during the first five years, and will be reset every five years. The issuer shall have a conditional redemption right on every dividend payment date from the fifth year onwards. The proceeds are used to replenish the Bank's additional tier-one capital in accordance with applicable laws and approvals by the regulatory authorities. As at December 31, 2025, such bond has not been redeemed. Please refer to the announcement of the Bank dated August 15, 2023 for details.

In January 2023, the Bank has entered into the convertible negotiated deposit agreement (the "Agreement") with Zhengzhou Finance Bureau as designated by Finance Department of Henan Province, and has received RMB8 billion from Zhengzhou Finance Bureau in the form of convertible negotiated deposit, which has been fully used to replenish other tier-one capital. For details, please refer to the announcement of the Bank dated February 6, 2023.

2 Profits and Dividends

The profits and financial position of the Bank for 2025 are set out in the annual financial statements of this annual report.

Due to the need for further review of the 2025 profit distribution plan, the Board of Directors of the Bank has decided to postpone the review of the proposal for the 2025 profit distribution plan. The Bank expects to hold another Board meeting before May 31, 2026, to review the proposal for the 2025 profit distribution plan, which will be proposed at the 2025 shareholders' general meeting for approval after being approved by the Board of Directors.

The Bank will announce details of the 2025 profit distribution plan and relevant arrangements for convening the 2025 shareholders' general meeting in due course.

11 Audit Review

The financial statements for 2025 prepared by the Bank according to the IFRSs have been audited by Baker Tilly Hong Kong Limited, and the auditor's report was unqualified. The 2025 Annual Report of the Bank has been reviewed and approved by the Audit Committee of the Board and the Board of Directors of the Bank.

Chapter 11 Independent Auditor's Report

Independent auditor's report to the shareholders of Zhongyuan Bank Co., Ltd.
(A joint stock company incorporated in the People's Republic of China with limited liability)

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Zhongyuan Bank Co., Ltd. (the "Bank") and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the "Group") set out on pages 156 to 287, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2025, the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended and notes, comprising material accounting policy information and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2025 and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAAs") as issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the "Code"), as applicable to audits of financial statements of public interest entities. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Chapter 11 Independent Auditor's Report

Loss allowances of loans and advances and financial investments measured at amortised cost
Refer to notes 20 and 21 to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies in note 2(9)(ii).
The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The determination of loss allowances for loans and advances to customers and financial investments measured at amortised cost using the expected credit loss ("ECL") model involves a number of key parameters and assumptions. These include the identification of credit impairment stages, estimates of probability of default, loss given default, exposure at default, discount rates, forward-looking adjustments and other adjustment factors. Significant management judgement is required in selecting these parameters and applying the related assumptions. In particular, the determination of loss allowances is highly dependent on the external macroeconomic environment and the Group's internal credit risk management strategies. In assessing key parameters and assumptions, the ECLs for corporate loans and advances and financial investments measured at amortised cost are derived from historical loss experience, internal and external credit ratings and other adjustment factors. The ECLs for personal loans are derived from historical overdue data, historical loss experience and other adjustment factors. Management also exercises judgement in determining loss given default, considering factors such as the recoverable amount, the financial condition of the borrower, the recoverable amount of collateral, the seniority of claims, and the existence of, and cooperation with, other creditors. In addition, the enforceability, timing and method of collateral realisation may affect the recoverable amount of collateral.	Our audit procedures to assess loss allowances of loans and advances and financial investments measured at amortised cost included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • understanding and evaluating the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of key internal controls over financial reporting relating to the approval, recording, monitoring and classification of loans and advances to customers and financial investments measured at amortised cost, and the measurement of impairment allowances; • assessing the reliability of the ECL model used by management and the appropriateness of the key parameters and assumptions applied, including the identification of credit impairment stages, probability of default, loss given default, exposure at default, discount rates and forward-looking adjustments, and assessing the reasonableness of the significant management judgement involved; • assessing the completeness and accuracy of key data used in the ECL model. For key internal data derived from original loan agreements, we reconciled the aggregate balances of loans and advances to customers and financial investments measured at amortised cost used by management in assessing impairment allowances to the general ledger and, on a sample basis, checked details of individual loan and investment against the underlying agreements and other supporting documents. For key external data, we compared such data with publicly available information sources to assess their accuracy; • for parameters involving significant management judgement, challenging management's adjustments to estimates and key parameters compared with the prior period and assessing the consistency of management's judgement; • comparing the forward-looking macroeconomic factors applied in the ECL models with relevant market information to assess whether such factors were consistent with prevailing market conditions and economic development;

Loss allowances of loans and advances and financial investments measured at amortised cost (Continued)
Refer to notes 20 and 21 to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies in note 2(9)(ii). (Continued)
The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
We identified the impairment of loans and advances to customers and financial investments measured at amortised cost as a key audit matter due to the inherent uncertainty and significant management judgement involved, as well as its potential significance to the Group's financial results and capital position.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • for key system-generated internal data used in the ECL model, assessing the accuracy of system input data by comparing such data with original source documents on a sample basis. In addition, with the involvement of our IT specialists, testing the logic applied in compiling overdue information for selected corporate customers; • evaluating the reasonableness of management's judgement as to whether the credit risk of loans and advances to customers and financial investments measured at amortised cost had increased significantly since initial recognition and whether such assets were credit-impaired, by selecting samples from industries more vulnerable to current economic conditions and from borrowers with potential credit risk, and inspecting overdue information, assessing borrowers' credit risk profiles, making enquiries of management regarding borrowers' business operations, reviewing borrowers' financial information and researching relevant market information relating to borrowers' businesses; • on a sample basis, assessing the reasonableness of loss given default for credit-impaired loans and advances to customers and financial investments measured at amortised cost. In performing these procedures, we evaluated the timing and method of collateral realisation, assessed expected recoverable cash flows, considered the feasibility of the Group's recovery plans, compared management's valuation of collateral with market prices, and considered other sources of repayment identified by management. Based on the above, we re-performed, on a sample basis, the calculation of impairment allowances using the ECL model; and • evaluating whether the disclosures relating to impairment allowances for loans and advances to customers and financial investments measured at amortised cost in the consolidated financial statements were appropriate and in compliance with the relevant accounting standards.

Chapter 11 Independent Auditor's Report

Consolidation of structured entities
Refer to note 40 to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies in note 2(4).
The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
Structured entities are generally established to achieve specific and well-defined objectives and operate within restricted activities. The Group may acquire or hold interests in structured entities, or act as a sponsor, through issuing or investing in wealth management products, asset management plans, trust plans or asset-backed securities. In determining whether a structured entity is required to be consolidated, management considers the risks to which the Group is exposed and the rewards to which it is entitled, whether the Group has power over the relevant activities of the structured entity, and the extent to which the Group can use such power to affect the amount of its variable returns. In certain circumstances, the Group may be required to consolidate a structured entity even though it does not hold any equity interest therein. We identified the consolidation of structured entities as a key audit matter because determining whether a structured entity should be consolidated involves significant management judgement, and the consolidation of structured entities may have a significant impact on the consolidated statement of financial position and the related regulatory capital requirements.	Our audit procedures to assess the consolidation of structured entities included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • understanding and evaluating the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of key internal controls over the consolidation of structured entities, including management's assessment of transaction structures and contractual terms, the evaluation and calculation of the Group's variable returns, and the approval of consolidation conclusions; • selecting significant structured entities across major product types and performing the following procedures: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – inspecting relevant contracts, internal establishment documents and information disclosed to investors to understand the purpose for which the structured entity was established and the extent of the Group's involvement, and to assess management's judgement as to whether the Group has power over the structured entity; – reviewing the risk and reward structure of the structured entity to assess management's judgement regarding the Group's exposure, or rights, to variable returns arising from its involvement with the structured entity; – reviewing management's analyses of the structured entity to assess management's judgement regarding the Group's ability to influence the amount of its variable returns; – evaluating management's judgement as to whether the structured entity should be consolidated or not; and • evaluating whether the disclosures relating to unconsolidated structured entities in the consolidated financial statements were appropriate and in compliance with the relevant accounting standards.

Chapter 11 Independent Auditor's Report

Information other than the consolidated financial statements and auditor's report thereon

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all the information included in the annual report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the directors for the consolidated financial statements

The directors are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the IASB and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Chapter 11 Independent Auditor's Report

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. This report is made solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSA's will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSA's, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business units within the Group as a basis for forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and review of the audit work performed for purposes of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and, where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement director on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Gao Yajun.

1 Background information

Zhongyuan Bank Co., Ltd. (the “Bank”) was established in Zhengzhou, Henan Province, the People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”) on 23 December 2014 with the approval of the former China Banking Regulatory Commission (the former “CBRC”). Prior to its establishment, the banking business (the “Business”) was carried out by thirteen city commercial banks (the “Predecessor Entities”), each being located in Henan Province.

Pursuant to the reorganisation initiated by the People’s Government of Henan Province (the “Henan Government”), the Bank was established through the merger and reorganisation of the Predecessor Entities.

The Bank obtained its financial institution license No. B0615H241010001 from the former CBRC, and obtained its business license with unified social credit code 9141000031741675X6 from the State Administration for Industry and Commerce of the PRC. The Bank is regulated by the National Financial Regulatory Administration (“NFRA”) authorised by the State Council.

In July 2017, the Bank’s H-shares were listed on the Main Board of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (Stock code: 01216).

On 25 May 2022, the Bank received the approval for the merger by absorption of Bank of Luoyang Co., Ltd. (“Bank of Luoyang”), Bank of Pingdingshan Co., Ltd. (“Bank of Pingdingshan”) and Bank of Jiaozuo China Travel Service Co., Ltd. (“Bank of JZCTS”) from the former China Banking and Insurance Regulatory Commission (the former “CBIRC”) and completed the merger by absorption.

The principal activities of the Bank and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “Group”) are the provision of corporate and personal deposits, loans and advances, settlement, financial markets business, financial leasing and other financial services as approved by the former CBRC.

2 Material accounting policies

(1) Statement of compliance

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with all applicable IFRS Accounting Standards, which collective term includes all applicable individual International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards (“IASs”) and Interpretations issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the “IASB”) and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. These consolidated financial statements also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited. Material accounting policies adopted by the Group are disclosed below.

The IASB has issued certain amendments to IFRS Accounting Standards that are first effective or available for early adoption for the current accounting period of the Group. Note 2(3) provides information on any changes in accounting policies resulting from initial application of these developments to the extent that they are relevant to the Group for the current and prior accounting periods reflected in these consolidated financial statements.

(2) Basis of preparation of the consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2025 comprise the Bank and its subsidiaries and the Group's investments in an associate and a joint venture.

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRS Accounting Standards requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future years if the revision affects both current and future years.

Judgements made by management in the application of IFRS Accounting Standards that have significant effect on the consolidated financial statements and major sources of estimation uncertainty are discussed in Note 2(29).

The measurement basis used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements is the historical basis, except that the financial instruments classified as at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVOCI") or at fair value through profit or loss ("FVPL") and derivative financial instruments (see Note 2(9)(iii)) are stated at their fair value as explained in the respective accounting policies.

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Renminbi ("RMB"), rounded to the nearest thousand, which is the functional currency of the Group.

(3) Changes in accounting policies

The Group has applied amendments to IAS 21, The effects of changes in foreign exchange rates – Lack of exchangeability issued by the IASB to these consolidated financial statements for the current accounting period. The amendments do not have a material impact on these consolidated financial statements as the Group has not entered into any foreign currency transactions in which the foreign currency is not exchangeable into another currency.

The Group has not applied any new standard or interpretation that is not yet effective for the current accounting period.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(4) Subsidiaries and non-controlling interests

Subsidiaries (including structured entities) are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which control commences until the date on which control ceases.

A structured entity is an entity that has been designed so that voting or similar rights are not the dominant factor in deciding who controls the entity, such as when any voting rights relate to administrative tasks only and the relevant activities are directed by means of contractual arrangements.

Intra-group balances and transactions, and any unrealised income and expenses (except for foreign currency transaction gains or losses) arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated. Unrealised losses resulting from intra-group transactions are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains, but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

For each business combination, the Group can elect to measure any non-controlling interests (“NCI”) either at fair value or at the NCI’s proportionate share of the subsidiary’s net identifiable assets. NCI are presented in the consolidated statement of financial position within equity, separately from equity attributable to the equity shareholders of the Bank. NCI in the results of the Group are presented on the face of the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as an allocation of the total profit or loss and total comprehensive income for the year between NCI and the equity shareholders of the Bank.

Changes in the Group’s interests in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, it derecognises the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary, and any related NCI and other components of equity. Any resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss. Any interest retained in that former subsidiary is measured at fair value when control is lost.

In the Bank’s statement of financial position, an investment in a subsidiary is stated at cost less impairment losses (see Note 2(18)), unless it is classified as held for sale (or included in a disposal group classified as held for sale).

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(5) Associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity in which the Group or the Bank has significant influence, but not control or joint control, over the financial and operating policies.

A joint venture is an arrangement in which the Group or the Bank has joint control, whereby the Group or the Bank has the rights to the net assets of the arrangement, rather than rights to its assets and obligations for its liabilities.

An interest in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method, unless it is classified as held for sale (or included in a disposal group classified as held for sale). They are initially recognised at cost, which includes transaction costs. Subsequently, the consolidated financial statements include the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income ("OCI") of those investees, until the date on which significant influence or joint control ceases.

When the Group's share of losses exceeds its interest in the associate or the joint venture, the Group's interest is reduced to nil and recognition of further losses is discontinued except to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the investee. For this purpose, the Group's interest is the carrying amount of the investment under the equity method together with the Group's long-term interests that in substance form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or the joint venture.

Unrealised gains arising from transactions with equity-accounted investees are eliminated against the investment to the extent of the Group's interest in the investee. Unrealised losses are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains, but only to the extent there is no evidence of impairment.

In the Bank's statement of financial position, an investment in an associate or a joint venture is stated at cost less impairment losses, unless it is classified as held for sale (or included in a disposal group classified as held for sale).

(6) Goodwill

Goodwill arising on acquisition of businesses is measured at cost less accumulated impairment losses and is tested annually for impairment (see Note 2(18)).

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(7) Translation of foreign currencies

Foreign currency transactions are, on initial recognition, translated to RMB at the spot exchange rates or the rates that approximate the spot exchange rates at the dates of transactions.

A spot exchange rate is quoted by the People's Bank of China ("PBOC"), the State Administration of Foreign Exchange, or a cross rate determined based on quoted exchange rates. A rate that approximates the spot exchange rate is determined by a systematic and rational method, normally the average exchange rate of the current period.

Monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are translated to RMB at the spot exchange rate at the end of each reporting period. The resulting exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at historical cost are translated to RMB using the foreign exchange rate at the transaction date. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at fair value are translated using the foreign exchange rate at the date the fair value is determined; the exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss, except for the exchange differences arising from the translation of non-monetary financial investments at FVOCI which are recognised in OCI.

(8) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand, non-restricted balances with central bank, short-term deposits and placements with banks and other financial institutions, financial assets held under resale agreements and highly liquid short-term investments which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. Short-term generally refers to maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition. Cash and cash equivalents are assessed for expected credit losses ("ECL"s) (see Note 2(9)(ii)).

(9) Financial instruments

(i) Recognition and measurement of financial assets and liabilities

A financial asset or financial liability is recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of a financial instrument.

The financial instruments are initially stated at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs, except for those financial instruments measured at FVPL for which transaction costs are recognised directly in profit or loss. For an explanation of how the Group determines fair value of financial instruments, see Note 46. These financial instruments are subsequently accounted for as follows, depending on their classification.

(9) Financial instruments (Continued)

(i) Recognition and measurement of financial assets and liabilities (Continued)

Financial instruments other than equity investments

Non-equity financial instruments held by the Group are classified into one of the following measurement categories:

- amortised cost, if the financial instrument is held for the collection of contractual cash flows which represent solely payments of principal and interest. Interest income from the financial instrument is calculated using the effective interest method (see Note 2(24)(a)).
- FVOCI (recycling), if the contractual cash flows of the financial instrument comprise solely payments of principal and interest and the financial instrument is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both the collection of contractual cash flows and sale. Changes in fair value are recognised in OCI, except for the recognition in profit or loss of ECLs, interest income (calculated using the effective interest method) and foreign exchange gains and losses. When the financial instrument is derecognised, the amount accumulated in OCI is recycled from equity to profit or loss.
- FVPL, if the financial instrument does not meet the criteria for being measured at amortised cost or FVOCI (recycling). Changes in the fair value of the financial instrument (including interest) are recognised in profit or loss.

Equity investments

An investment in equity securities is classified as FVPL unless the equity investment is not held for trading purposes and on initial recognition of the investment the Group makes an irrevocable election to designate the investment at FVOCI (non-recycling) such that subsequent changes in fair value are recognised in OCI. Such elections are made on an instrument-by-instrument basis, but may only be made if the investment meets the definition of equity from the issuer's perspective. Where such an election is made, the amount accumulated in OCI remains in the fair value reserve (non-recycling) until the investment is disposed of. At the time of disposal, the amount accumulated in the fair value reserve (non-recycling) is transferred to retained earnings and not recycled through profit or loss. Dividends from an investment in equity securities, irrespective of whether classified as at FVPL or FVOCI, are recognised in profit or loss.

(ii) Credit losses and impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises a loss allowance for ECLs on the following items:

- financial assets measured at amortised cost (including cash and cash equivalents, loans and advances to customers, and financial investments at amortised cost);
- debt securities measured at FVOCI (recycling);
- lease receivables; and
- loan commitments issued, which are not measured at FVPL.

Other financial assets measured at fair value, including units in bond funds, equity securities measured at FVPL, equity securities designated at FVOCI (non-recycling) and derivative financial assets, are not subject to the ECL assessment.

Measurement of ECLs

ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses are measured as the present value of all expected cash shortfalls (i.e. the difference between the cash flows due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive).

For undrawn loan commitments, expected cash shortfalls are measured as the difference between (i) the contractual cash flows that would be due to the Group if the holder of the loan commitment draws down on the loan and (ii) the cash flows that the Group expects to receive if the loan is drawn down.

The expected cash shortfalls are discounted using the following discount rates where the effect of discounting is material:

- fixed-rate financial assets: effective interest rate determined at initial recognition or an approximation thereof;
- variable-rate financial assets: current effective interest rate;
- lease receivables: discount rate used in the measurement of the lease receivable;
- loan commitments: current risk-free rate adjusted for risks specific to the cash flows.

The maximum period considered when estimating ECLs is the maximum contractual period over which the Group is exposed to credit risk.

In measuring ECLs, the Group takes into account reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort. This includes information about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

(9) Financial instruments (Continued)

(ii) Credit losses and impairment of financial assets (Continued)

ECLs are measured on either of the following bases:

- 12-month ECLs: these are losses that are expected to result from possible default events within the 12 months after the reporting date; and
- lifetime ECLs: these are losses that are expected to result from all possible default events over the expected lives of the items to which the ECL model applies.

The Group recognises a loss allowance equal to 12-month ECLs unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk of the financial instrument since initial recognition, in which case the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs.

Significant increases in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk of a financial instrument (including a loan commitment) has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of default occurring on the financial instrument assessed at the reporting date with that assessed at the date of initial recognition. In making this reassessment, the Group considers that a default event occurs when (i) the borrower is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Group in full, without recourse by the Group to actions such as realising security (if any is held); or (ii) the financial asset is 90 days past due. The Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition:

- failure to make payments of principal or interest on their contractually due dates;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in a financial instrument's external or internal credit rating (if available);
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor; and
- existing or forecast changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have a significant adverse effect on the debtor's ability to meet its obligation to the Group.

For loan commitments, the date of initial recognition for the purpose of assessing ECLs is considered to be the date that the Group becomes a party to the irrevocable commitment. In assessing whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition of a loan commitment, the Group considers changes in the risk of default occurring on the loan to which the loan commitment relates.

(9) Financial instruments (Continued)

Depending on the nature of the financial instruments, the assessment of a significant increase in credit risk is performed on either an individual basis or a collective basis. When the assessment is performed on a collective basis, the financial instruments are grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics, such as past due status and credit risk ratings.

ECLs are remeasured at each reporting date to reflect changes in the financial instrument's credit risk since initial recognition. Any change in the ECL amount is recognised as an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss. The Group recognises an impairment gain or loss for all financial instruments with a corresponding adjustment to their carrying amount through a loss allowance account, except for investments in debt securities that are measured at FVOCI (recycling), for which the loss allowance is recognised in OCI and accumulated in other reserves (recycling).

Basis of calculation of interest income

Interest income recognised in accordance with Note 2(24)(a) is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit-impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on the amortised cost (i.e. the gross carrying amount less loss allowance) of the financial asset.

Credit-impaired financial assets

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether a financial asset is credit-impaired. A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes the following observable events:

- significant financial difficulties of the debtor;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
- it is becoming probable that the debtor will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation;
- significant changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment which impact on the debtor;
- disappearance of an active market for financial assets because of financial difficulties of the debtor; or
- overdue for more than 90 days.

(9) Financial instruments (Continued)

(ii) Credit losses and impairment of financial assets (Continued)

Write-off policy

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset or lease receivable is written off (either partially or in full) to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. This is generally the case when the Group determines that the debtor does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off.

Subsequent recoveries of an asset that was previously written off are recognised as a reversal of impairment in profit or loss in the period in which the recovery occurs.

(iii) Derivative financial instruments

Derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently remeasured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as assets when the fair value is positive and as liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Certain derivatives embedded in financial instruments are treated as separate derivatives when their economic characteristics and risks are not closely related to those of the host contract and the hybrid instrument is not carried at FVPL. These embedded derivatives are measured at FVPL.

Any gains or losses arising from changes in fair value on derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting are recognised directly in profit or loss.

For less complex derivative products, the fair values are principally determined by valuation models which are commonly used by market participants. Inputs to valuation models are determined from observable market data wherever possible, including foreign exchange spot and forward rates and interest rate yield curves. For more complex derivative products, the fair values are mainly determined by quoted prices from dealers.

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(iv) Fair value measurement principles

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or, in its absence, the most advantageous market to which the Group has access at that date.

If there is an active market for a financial asset or financial liability, the quoted price in the active market without adjusting for transaction costs that may be incurred upon future disposal or settlement is used to establish the fair value of the financial asset or financial liability. For a financial asset held or a financial liability to be assumed, the quoted price is the current bid price. For a financial asset to be acquired or a financial liability assumed, it is the current asking price. The quoted prices from an active market are prices that are readily and regularly available from an exchange, broker, industry group or pricing service agency, and represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis.

If no active market exists for a financial instrument, a valuation technique is used to establish the fair value. Valuation techniques include using recent arm's length market transactions between knowledgeable and willing parties; referencing to the current fair value of another instrument that is substantially the same; using discounted cash flow analysis and option pricing models. Where discounted cash flow technique is used, future cash flows are estimated based on management's best estimates and the discount rate used is the prevailing market rate applicable for instrument with similar terms and conditions at the end of each reporting period. Where other pricing models are used, inputs are based on market data at the end of each reporting period.

In estimating the fair value of a financial asset and financial liability, the Group considers all factors including, but not limited to, risk-free interest rate, credit risk, foreign exchange rate and market volatility, that are likely to affect the fair value of the financial asset and financial liability.

The Group obtains market data from the same market where the financial instrument was originated or purchased.

(v) Derecognition of financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets (or a part of a financial asset or group of financial assets) are derecognised when the financial assets meet one of the following conditions:

- the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire; or
- the Group transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial assets or in which the Group neither transfer, nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and it does not retain control of the financial asset.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(9) Financial instruments (Continued)

If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, but retains control, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and relevant liability to the extent of its continuing involvement in the financial asset.

Financial liabilities (or part of it) are derecognised only when the underlying present obligation (or part of it) specified in the contracts is discharged, cancelled or expired. An agreement between the Group and an existing lender to replace the original financial liability with a new financial liability with substantially different terms, or a substantial modification of the terms of an existing financial liability is accounted for as an extinguishment of the original financial liability and recognition of a new financial liability. The difference between the carrying amount of the derecognised financial liability and the consideration paid is recognised in profit or loss.

(vi) Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the consolidated statement of financial position when the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and the transactions are intended to be settled on a net basis, or by realising the asset and settling the liability simultaneously.

(10) Financial assets held under resale and repurchase agreements

Financial assets purchased under agreements to resell are reported not as purchases of the assets but as receivables and are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at amortised cost. Financial assets held under resale agreements are assessed for ECLs in accordance with the policy set out in Note 2(9)(ii).

Financial assets sold subject to a simultaneous agreement to repurchase these assets are retained in the consolidated statement of financial position and measured in accordance with their original measurement principles. The proceeds from the sale are reported as liabilities and are carried at amortised cost.

Interest earned on reverse repurchase agreements and interest incurred on repurchase agreements are recognised respectively as interest income and interest expense over the life of each agreement using the effective interest method.

(11) Other equity instruments

The Group classifies instruments issued as financial liabilities or equity instruments in accordance with the substance of the contractual terms of the instruments. The Group's other equity instruments are not redeemable by holders and bear an entitlement to coupons at the sole discretion of the board of directors. Accordingly, they are presented within equity. Distributions thereon are recognised in equity. Based on the Group's assessment of the terms of the instruments, the coupon payments meet the definition of dividends. Incremental costs that are directly attributable to the issue of an equity instrument are deducted from the initial measurement of the equity instruments.

(12) Investments in subsidiaries

In the Group's consolidated financial statements, investments in subsidiaries are accounted for in accordance with the principles described in Note 2(4).

In the Bank's financial statements, investments in subsidiaries are accounted for using the cost method. An investment in a subsidiary acquired other than through a business combination is initially recognised at actual payment cost if the Bank acquires the investment by cash. The investment is stated at cost less impairment loss (see Note 2(18)) in the Bank's statement of financial position. Except for declared but not yet distributed cash dividends or profits distribution that have been included in the price or consideration paid in obtaining the investments, the Bank recognises its share of the cash dividends or profit distribution declared by the investees as investment income.

(13) Investment property

Investment property is a property held either for earning rental income or for capital appreciation or for both. Investment property is accounted for using the cost model and stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss (Note 2(18)). Investment property is depreciated using the straight-line method over its estimated useful life after taking into account its estimated residual value.

	Estimated useful life	Estimated rate of residual value	Depreciation rate
Premises	20 years	3%	4.85%

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(14) Property and equipment and construction in progress

Property and equipment are assets held by the Group for operation and administration purposes with useful lives over one year.

Property and equipment are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss (see Note 2(18)). Construction in progress is stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less impairment loss (see Note 2(18)).

The cost of a purchased property and equipment comprises the purchase price, related taxes, and any expenditure directly attributable to bringing the asset into working condition for its intended use.

All direct and indirect costs that are related to the construction of property and equipment and incurred before the assets are ready for their intended use are capitalised as the cost of construction in progress. Construction in progress is transferred to property and equipment when the item being constructed is ready for its intended use. No depreciation is provided against construction in progress.

Where the individual component parts of an item of property and equipment have different useful lives or provide benefits to the Group in different patterns thus necessitating use of different depreciation rates or methods, they are recognised as a separate property and equipment.

The subsequent costs including the cost of replacing part of an item of property and equipment are recognised in the carrying amount of the item if the recognition criteria are satisfied, and the carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property and equipment are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

Items may be produced while bringing an item of property and equipment to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. The proceeds from selling any such items and the related costs are recognised in profit or loss.

Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of an item of property and equipment are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item and are recognised in profit or loss on the date of retirement or disposal.

(14) Property and equipment and construction in progress (Continued)

Property and equipment are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, after taking into account their estimated residual values. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation rates of each class of property and equipment are as follows:

Asset category	Estimated useful life	Estimated rate of residual value	Depreciation rate
Premises	20 years	3%	4.85%
Motor vehicles	4 years	3%	24.25%
Others	3 – 10 years	3%	9.70% – 32.33%

Useful lives, residual values and depreciation methods are reviewed at least at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

(15) Leases

At inception of a contract, the Group assesses whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. This is the case if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. Control is conveyed where the customer has both the right to direct the use of the identified asset and to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from that use.

(i) As a lessee

Where the contract contains lease component(s) and non-lease component(s), the Group has elected not to separate non-lease components and accounts for each lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component for all leases.

At the lease commencement date, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability. Lease liability is initially recognised at the present value of the lease payments payable over the lease term, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, using a relevant incremental borrowing rate. After initial recognition, the lease liability is measured at amortised cost and interest expense is recognised using the effective interest method. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or rate are not included in the measurement of the lease liability, and are charged to profit or loss as incurred.

The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the end of the lease term, unless the lease transfers ownership of the underlying asset to the Group by the end of the lease term or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Group will exercise a purchase option. In that case the right-of-use asset will be depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset, which is determined on the same basis as those of property and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses (see Note 2(18)), if any, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the Group's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or if the Group changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option. When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

The lease liability is also remeasured when there is a lease modification, which means a change in the scope of a lease or the consideration for a lease that is not originally provided for in the lease contract, if such modification is not accounted for as a separate lease. In this case, the lease liability is remeasured based on the revised lease payments and lease term using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

(ii) As a lessor

The Group determines at lease inception whether each lease is a finance lease or an operating lease. A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to the ownership of an underlying assets to the lessee. Otherwise, the lease is classified as an operating lease.

When a contract contains lease and non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each component on a relative stand-alone selling price basis.

When the Group is an intermediate lessor, the sub-leases are classified as a finance lease or as an operating lease with reference to the right-of-use asset arising from the head lease.

Under a finance lease, at the commencement date, the Group recognises the finance lease receivable and derecognises the finance lease asset. The finance lease receivable is initially measured at an amount equal to the net investment in the lease. The net investment in the lease is measured at the aggregate of the unguaranteed residual value and the present value of the lease receivable that are not received at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

The Group recognises finance income over the lease term, based on a pattern reflecting a constant periodic rate of return. The derecognition and impairment of the finance lease receivable are recognised in accordance with the accounting policy in Note 2(9). Variable lease payments not included in the measurement of net investment in the lease are recognised as income as they are earned.

Lease receipts from operating leases are recognised as income using the straight-line method over the lease term. The initial direct costs incurred in respect of the operating lease are initially capitalised and subsequently amortised in profit or loss over the lease term on the same basis as the lease income. Variable lease payments not included in lease receipts are recognised as income as they are earned.

(16) Intangible assets

The intangible assets of the Group, other than leasing license, have finite useful lives. These intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment loss (see Note 2(18)). The cost of intangible assets less residual value and impairment loss is amortised on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives.

The respective amortisation periods for intangible assets are as follows:

Computer software	5-10 years
Trademark right and others	10 years

Amortisation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

The leasing licenses of the Group's subsidiaries are recognised as intangible assets with indefinite life and are tested annually for impairment.

(17) Repossessed assets

Repossessed assets are physical assets or property rights obtained by the Group from debtors, warrantors or third parties following the enforcement of its creditor's rights. The repossessed assets are initially recognised at fair value, and are subsequently measured at the lower of the carrying value and net recoverable amount. If the recoverable amount is lower than the carrying value of the repossessed assets, the assets are written down to the recoverable amount.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(18) Provision for impairment losses on non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the following assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period based on the internal and external sources of information to determine whether there is any indication of impairment:

- property and equipment;
- construction in progress;
- right-of-use assets;
- intangible assets;
- investment property measured using a cost model;
- investments in subsidiaries, associate and joint venture in the Bank's statement of financial position; and
- goodwill.

If any indication exists that an asset may be impaired, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated. Goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite life are test annually for impairment.

A cash-generating unit ("CGU") is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or asset groups. A CGU is composed of assets directly relating to cash-generation. Identification of a CGU is based on whether major cash inflows generated by the asset group are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or asset groups. In identifying an asset group, the Group also considers how management monitors the Group's operations and how management makes decisions about continuing or disposing of the Group's assets.

The recoverable amount of an asset is the higher of its fair value less cost of disposal and value in use. If there is any indication that an asset may be impaired, the recoverable amount is estimated for the individual asset; if it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of the individual asset, the Group determines the recoverable amount of the CGU to which the assets belongs.

An asset's fair value less cost of disposal is the amount determined by the price of a sale agreement in an arm's length transaction, less the costs that are directly attributable to the disposal of the asset. The value in use of an asset is determined by discounting the future cash flows, estimated to be derived from continuing use of the asset and from its ultimate disposal, to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects expected future cash flows, the useful life and the discount rate specific to the asset.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(18) Provision for impairment losses on non-financial assets (Continued)

An impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. A provision for an impairment loss of the asset is recognised accordingly.

In respect of non-financial assets other than goodwill, if in a subsequent period, the amount of impairment loss of the asset decreases and the decrease can be linked objectively to an event occurring after impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss. A reversal of impairment loss is limited to the asset's carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised in prior periods.

(19) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term employee benefits and contributions to defined contribution retirement plans

Short-term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid if the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

Obligations for contributions to defined contribution retirement plans are expensed as the related service is provided.

Social pension schemes

Pursuant to the relevant laws and regulations in the PRC, the Group has participated in the social pension schemes for the employees arranged by local government labour and security authorities. The Group makes contributions to the retirement schemes at the applicable rates based on the amounts stipulated by the government. The contributions are charged to profit or loss on an accrual basis. When employees retire, the local government labour and security authorities are responsible for the payment of the basic retirement benefits to the retired employees.

Housing fund and other social insurances

In addition to the retirement benefits above, the Group has joined social security contributions schemes for employees pursuant to the relevant laws and regulations of the PRC. These schemes include a housing fund, basic medical insurance, unemployment insurance, injury insurance and maternity insurance. The Group makes monthly contributions to the housing fund and other social insurances schemes at the applicable rates based on the amounts stipulated by the relevant government authorities. The contributions are charged to profit or loss on an accrual basis.

(19) Employee benefits (Continued)

(ii) Supplementary retirement benefits

Early retirement plan

The Group provides early retirement benefit payments to employees who voluntarily agreed to retire early for the period from the date of early retirement to the regulated retirement date. The benefit is discounted to determine the present value based on certain assumptions. The calculation is performed by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method.

Differences arising from changes in assumptions and estimates of the present value of the liabilities are recognised in profit or loss when incurred.

Supplementary retirement plan

The Group provides a supplementary retirement plan to its eligible employees. The Group's obligations in respect of the supplementary retirement plan are calculated by estimating the present value of the total amount of future benefits that the Group is committed to pay to the employees after their retirement. The calculation is performed by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. Such obligations were discounted at the interest yield of government bonds with similar duration at the reporting date. The related service cost and net interest from the retirement plan are recognised in profit or loss, and the actuarial gains and losses arising from remeasurements are recognised in OCI.

Early retirement plan and supplementary retirement plan thereafter collectively referred to as "supplementary retirement benefits". Except for the above mentioned, the Group has no significant responsibilities to pay any other retirement benefits to employees.

(20) Income tax

Income tax expense comprises current tax and deferred tax. It is recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination, or items recognised directly in equity or in OCI.

Current tax comprises the estimated tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustments to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The amount of current tax payable or receivable is the best estimate of the tax amount expected to be paid or received that reflects any uncertainty related to income taxes. It is measured using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Current tax also includes any tax arising from dividends.

Current tax assets and liabilities are offset only if certain criteria are met.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(20) Income tax (Continued)

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is not recognised for:

- temporary differences on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and at the time of the transaction (i) affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss and (ii) does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences;
- temporary differences related to investment in subsidiaries, associates and joint venture to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future;
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill; and
- those related to the income taxes arising from tax laws enacted or substantively enacted to implement the Pillar Two model rules published by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development.

The Group recognised deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities separately in relation to its lease liabilities and right-of-use assets.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses, unused tax credits and deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. Future taxable profits are determined based on the reversal of relevant taxable temporary differences. If the amount of taxable temporary differences is insufficient to recognise a deferred tax asset in full, then future taxable profits, adjusted for reversals of existing temporary differences, are considered, based on the business plans for individual subsidiaries in the Group. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised; such reductions are reversed when the probability of future taxable profits improves.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only if certain criteria are met.

(21) Financial guarantees, provisions and contingent liabilities

(i) Financial guarantees and loan commitments

Financial guarantees are contracts that require the issuer (the “guarantor”) to make specified payments to reimburse the beneficiary of the guarantee (“holder”) for a loss that the holder incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument.

Loan commitments are firm commitments to provide credit under pre-specified terms and conditions.

Financial guarantees issued or commitments are initially recognised at fair value, which is determined by reference to fees charged in an arm’s length transaction for similar services, when such information is obtainable, or to interest rate differentials, by comparing the actual rates charged by lenders when the guarantee is made available with the estimated rates that lenders would have charged, had the guarantees not been available, where reliable estimates of such information can be made. Where consideration is received or receivable for the issuance of the guarantee, the consideration is recognised in accordance with the Group’s policies applicable to that category of asset. Where no such consideration is received or receivable, an immediate expense is recognised in profit or loss.

The deferred income is amortised in profit or loss over the term of the financial guarantee as income.

(ii) Other provisions and contingent liabilities

A provision is recognised for an obligation related to a contingency if the Group has a present obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. A provision is initially measured at the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the related present obligation. Factors pertaining to a contingency such as the risks, uncertainties and time value of money are taken into account as a whole in reaching the best estimate. Where the effect of time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows.

For a possible obligation resulting from a past transaction or event whose existence will only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of uncertain future events or a present obligation resulting from a past transaction or event, where it is not probable that the settlement of the above obligation will cause an outflow of economic benefits, or the amount of the outflow cannot be estimated reliably, the possible or present obligation is disclosed as a contingent liability.

(22) Fiduciary activities

The Group acts in a fiduciary activity as a manager, a custodian, or an agent for customers. Assets held by the Group and the related undertakings to return such assets to customers are recorded as off-balance sheet items as the risks and rewards of the assets reside with customers.

The Group enters into entrusted loan agreements with customers, whereby the customers provide funding ("entrusted funds") to the Group, and the Group grants loans to third parties ("entrusted loans") under instructions of the customers. As the Group does not assume the risks and rewards of the entrusted loans and the corresponding entrusted funds, the entrusted loans and funds are recorded as off-balance sheet items at their principal amount. No provision for impairment loss is made for entrusted loans.

(23) Share capital

The share capital of the Group consists of issued ordinary shares. The direct costs arising from the issuance of new shares are recognised as a deduction from equity.

(24) Income recognition

Specific recognition criteria for different nature of revenue are disclosed below.

(a) Interest income

For all financial instruments measured at amortised cost and interest-generating financial instruments classified as financial assets measured at FVOCI, interest income is recorded at the effective interest rate, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount or the amortised cost of the financial asset. The calculation takes into account all contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment options) and includes any fees or incremental costs that are directly attributable to the instrument and are an integral part of the effective interest rate, but not ECLs.

Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the book value of financial assets and is included in interest income, except for:

- (i) For purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets, whose interest income is calculated, since initial recognition, by applying the credit adjusted effective interest rate to their amortised cost; and
- (ii) Financial assets that are not purchased or originated credit-impaired but have subsequently become credit-impaired, whose interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to their amortised cost (i.e. net of the ECL provision). If, in a subsequent period, the financial assets improve their qualities so that they are no longer credit-impaired and the improvement in credit quality is related objectively to a certain event occurring after the application of the above-mentioned rules, then the interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to their gross carrying amount.

(24) Income recognition (Continued)

(b) Fee and commission income

The Group earns fee and commission income from a diverse range of services it provides to its customers. The fee and commission income recognised by the Group reflects the amount of consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring promised services to customers, and income is recognised when its performance obligation in contracts is satisfied.

The Group recognises income over time by measuring the progress towards the complete satisfaction of a performance obligation, if the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs.

In other cases, the Group recognises revenue at a point in time at which a customer obtains control of the promised services.

(c) Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Group's right to receive payment is established.

(d) Net trading income

Results arising from trading activities include all gains and losses from changes in fair value for financial assets and financial liabilities that are held for trading. It also includes any gains or losses arising from changes in fair value on derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting.

(e) Government grants

Government grants are recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position initially when there is reasonable assurance that they will be received and that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them. Grants that compensate the Group for expenses incurred are recognised as income in profit or loss on a systematic basis in the same periods in which the expenses are incurred. Grants that compensate the Group for the cost of an asset are deducted from the carrying amount of the asset and consequently are effectively recognised in profit or loss over the useful life of the asset by way of reduced depreciation expense.

(25) Expenses recognition

(i) Interest expenses

Interest expenses from financial liabilities are accrued on a time proportion basis with reference to the amortised cost and the applicable effective interest rate.

(ii) Other expenses

Other expenses are recognised on an accrual basis.

(26) Dividends

Dividends or distributions of profits proposed in the profit appropriation plan which will be authorised and declared after the end of each reporting period are not recognised as a liability at the end of each reporting period but disclosed separately in the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

(27) Related parties

- (a) A person, or a close member of that person's family, is related to the Group if that person:
- (i) has control or joint control over the Group;
 - (ii) has significant influence over the Group; or
 - (iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or the Group's parent.
- (b) An entity is related to the Group if any of the following conditions applies:
- (i) The entity and the Group are members of the same group (which means that each parent, subsidiary and fellow subsidiary is related to the others).
 - (ii) One entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or an associate or joint venture of a member of a group of which the other entity is a member).
 - (iii) Both entities are joint ventures of the same third party.
 - (iv) One entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity.
 - (v) The entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Group or an entity related to the Group.
 - (vi) The entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a).
 - (vii) A person identified in (a)(i) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).
 - (viii) The entity, or any member of a group of which it is a part, provides key management personnel services to the Group or to the Group's parent.

Close members of the family of a person are those family members who may be expected to influence, or be influenced by, that person in their dealings with the entity.

(28) Segment reporting

Operating segments are identified from the financial information provided regularly to the Group's most senior executive management for the purposes of allocating resources to, and assessing the performance of, the Group's various lines of business and geographical locations.

Individually material operating segments are not aggregated for financial reporting purposes unless the segments have similar economic characteristics and are similar in respect of the nature of products and services, the nature of production processes, the type or class of customers, the methods used to distribute the products or provide the services, and the nature of the regulatory environment. Operating segments which are not individually material may be aggregated if they share a majority of these criteria.

(29) Significant accounting estimates and judgements

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Estimates as well as underlying assumptions and uncertainties involved are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised and in any future periods affected.

Except for accounting estimates relating to depreciation and amortisation of assets such as property and equipment and intangible assets (see Notes 24 and 27(c)) and provision for impairment of various types of assets (see Notes 16, 17, 19, 20, 21(b), 21(c), 22, 24, 26 and 27). Other significant accounting estimates and judgements are as follows:

- Recognition of deferred tax assets (see Note 25);
- Measurement of supplementary retirement benefits payable (see Note 35(a));
- Recognition of equity interest in a structured entity not included in the consolidation scope (see Note 40); and
- Fair value measurements of financial instruments (see Note 46).

Note:

- (1) The final remunerations in 2025 for Mr Guo Hao and Mr Zhou Feng are still pending relevant regulatory approval at the end of the reporting period. The total annual remuneration (including discretionary bonuses) of the other directors, supervisors and the President for the year 2025 has not yet been finalised but is not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2025.
- (2) The Bank has ceased to maintain a Supervisory Board effective on 5 January 2026. Pursuant to the Company Law of the PRC and other applicable laws and regulatory requirements, the functions and powers previously vested in the Supervisory Board shall be assumed by the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. The former members of the Supervisory Board shall no longer serve as supervisors nor hold any positions related to the Supervisory Board.
- (3) On 10 November 2025, the Bank was convened the second Extraordinary General Meeting for 2025 for the appointment of Mr. Zhou Feng as an Executive Director of the third session of the Board of Directors of the Bank. On the same day, Mr. Zhou Feng was elected as the Vice Chairman of the Bank at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bank. The qualification of Mr. Zhou Feng to serve as a director and vice chairman was approved by the Henan Office of the NFRA on 4 January 2026.

On 17 April 2025, Ms. Zhang Qiuyun resigned the position of a non-executive director of the Bank and a member of the Strategy and Development Committee of the Board of Directors with effect from 17 April 2025. On 30 June 2025, the Bank convened the 2024 annual general meeting for appointment of Mr. Li Wenqiang as a non-executive director of the third session of the Board of Directors of the Bank. The qualification of Mr. Li Wenqiang to serve as a director was approved by the Henan Office of the NFRA on 8 December 2025.

On 17 April 2025, Mr. Zhang Ke resigned from his positions as the Chairman of the Supervisory Committee, Supervisor, member of the Nomination Committee of the Supervisory Committee and member of the Supervision Committee of the Supervisory Committee with effect from 17 April 2025.

On 17 October 2025, Mr. Liu Kai resigned from the position of the President of the Bank due to work adjustments. Upon approval by the nineteenth meeting of the third session of the Board of Directors of the Bank, Mr. Zhou Feng was appointed as the President of the Bank. The qualification of Mr. Zhou Feng to serve as the President was approved by the Henan Office of the NFRA on 31 December 2025.

There was no amount paid during the years ended 31 December 2025 and 2024 to the directors in connection with their retirement from employment or compensation for loss of office with the Group, or inducement to join the Group. There was no arrangement under which a director or supervisor waived or agreed to waive any remuneration during the years ended 31 December 2025 and 2024.

18 Derivative financial instruments

A derivative is a financial instrument, the value of which changes in response to the change in a specified interest rate, commodity price, foreign exchange rate, or other similar variables. The Group uses derivative financial instruments mainly including foreign exchange forwards and interest rate swaps.

The notional amount of a derivative represents the amount of an underlying asset upon which the value of the derivative is based. It indicates the volume of business transacted by the Group but does not reflect the risk.

Impairment testing on goodwill

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill has been allocated to three individual CGUs, including corporate banking, retail banking and financial markets business. The carrying amounts of goodwill at the end of the reporting period allocated to these units are as follows:

	2025	2024
Corporate banking	1,432,016	1,432,016
Retail banking	426,501	426,501
Financial markets business	123,533	123,533
Total	1,982,050	1,982,050

The recoverable amounts of corporate banking unit, retail banking unit and financial markets business unit have been determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations use cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period, and the discount rate at 31 December 2025. Cash flows beyond five-year period are extrapolated using an estimated weighted average growth rate. The cash flows are discounted using a discount rate which is used are pre-tax and reflect specific risks relating to the CGUs.

At the end of the reporting period, the directors of the Bank determine that there is no impairment of any of its CGUs containing goodwill.

Management believes that any reasonably possible change in any of these assumptions would not cause the carrying amount of each of these CGUs to exceed its recoverable amount.

(b) Main clause

With the approvals of relevant regulatory authorities, Bank of Pingdingshan issued RMB1,000.00 million and RMB1,000.00 million of Perpetual Bonds on 2 December 2020 and 25 June 2021 respectively in the National Inter-bank Bond Market. Bank of Luoyang issued RMB2,000.00 million of Perpetual Bond on 25 June 2021 in the National Inter-bank Bond Market. The Bank inherited the above Perpetual Bonds after the completion of the merger by absorption. Bank of Pingdingshan Co., Ltd. 2020 Undated Capital Bonds is a callable bond. The Bank exercised the option and fully redeemed the bonds in 2025, with an aggregate nominal amount of RMB1,000.00 million..

With the approval of the relevant regulatory authorities, the Bank issued perpetual bonds with an aggregate principal amount of RMB10 billion in the National Inter-bank Bond Market on 15 August 2023. The fund raised from the issuance were used to supplement the other tier-1 capital of the Bank in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations and with the approval of the regulatory authorities.

(i) Interest

The unit coupon amount of the Perpetual Bonds is RMB100. The first 5-year coupon rate of the Perpetual Bonds inherited by the Bank in 2022 is 4.80%, with the interest rate resettable every 5 years. The first 5-year coupon rate of the Perpetual Bonds issued in 2023 is 4.60%, with the interest rate resettable every 5 years. The coupon rate of the bonds consist of two components, a base rate and a fixed spread.

(b) Main clause (Continued)

(ii) Interest stopper and setting mechanism

The interest payment for the Perpetual Bonds is non-cumulative. The Bank shall have the right to cancel, in whole or in part, distributions on the interest payment and any such cancellation shall not constitute an event of default. The Bank may, at its sole discretion, use the proceeds from the cancelled distributions to meet other obligations as they fall due. However, the Bank shall not distribute profits to ordinary shareholders until resumption of full interest payment.

(iii) Order of distribution and liquidation method

The claims in respect of the Perpetual Bonds will be subordinated to claims of depositors, general creditors, and subordinated indebtedness that rank senior to the Perpetual Bonds, and will rank in priority to all classes of shares held by shareholders of the Bank. Perpetual Bond will rank pari passu with the claims in respect of any other tier-1 capital instruments of the Bank that rank pari passu with the Perpetual Bonds.

(iv) Write down conditions

Upon the occurrence of a Non-Viability Trigger Event, the Bank has the right to write down all or part of the nominal amount of the outstanding Perpetual Bonds without the need for the consent of the bond holders.

(v) Redemption

The duration of the Perpetual Bonds is the same as the continuing operation of the Bank. Five years after the issuance date of the Perpetual Bonds, the Bank shall have the right to redeem them in whole or in part on each distribution payment date (including the fifth distribution payment date since the issuance). In the event that the Perpetual Bond is not classified as additional tier-1 capital due to unpredicted changes in regulations, the Bank shall have the right to redeem Perpetual Bonds fully instead of partly.

40 Structured entities

(a) Consolidated structured entities

The structured entities consolidated by the Group primarily comprise certain publicly offered funds invested by the Group, investment management products under trust plans, and investment management products managed by securities companies. The Group controls these structured entities as it has power over them, is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with them, and has the ability to use its power to affect those returns.

(b) Structured entities sponsored by third party institutions in which the Group holds an interest in

The Group holds interests in certain structured entities sponsored by third-party institutions through direct investments. These structured entities are not consolidated into the Group's consolidated financial statements, include investment management products under trust scheme, investment management products managed by securities companies and wealth management products issued by financial institutions. The nature and purpose of these structured entities are to generate fees from managing assets on behalf of third party investors. These vehicles are financed through the issue of units to investors.

The following table sets out an analysis of the carrying amounts of interests held by the Group, in structured entities sponsored by third-parties institutions, through direct investments, in structured entities sponsored by third parties, as well as an analysis of the line items in the consolidated statements of financial position in which relevant assets are recognised as at 31 December 2025 and 2024:

(c) Structured entities sponsored by the Group which the Group does not consolidate but holds an interest in

The types of unconsolidated structured entities sponsored by the Group include non-principal guaranteed wealth management products. The nature and purpose of these structured entities are to generate fees from managing assets on behalf of investors. These structured entities are financed through the issue of units to investors. Interest held by the Group includes investments in units issued by these structured entities and fees charged by providing management services.

As at 31 December 2025 and 2024, the carrying amounts of the investments in the units issued by these structured entities and management fee receivables being recognised are not material to the consolidated statement of financial position.

As at 31 December 2025, the amount of assets held by the unconsolidated non-principal guaranteed wealth management products, which are sponsored by the Group, was RMB60,167.11 million (2024: RMB66,706.82 million).

(d) Structured entities sponsored by the Group during the reporting period which the Group does not consolidate but have an interest in during the reporting period

As at 31 December 2025, the aggregated amount of the non-principal guaranteed wealth management products sponsored and issued by the Group after 1 January but matured before 31 December amounted to RMB4,181.30 million (2024: RMB10,683.32 million).

41 Capital management

The Group's capital management includes capital adequacy ratio management, capital financing management and economic capital management, of which the primary focus is on capital adequacy ratio management. The Group calculates the capital adequacy ratio in accordance with guidelines issued by the former CBRC. The capital of the Group is divided into core tier-1 capital, other tier-1 capital and tier-2 capital.

The capital adequacy ratio reflects the soundness of the Group's operations and risk management capabilities. The main objective in capital adequacy ratio management is to set an optimal capital adequacy ratio that meets the regulatory requirements by benchmarking against the capital adequacy ratio level of leading peer banks with reference to its own business environment and conditions.

The Group considers its strategic development plans, business expansion plans and risk variables when conducting scenario analysis and stress testing and executing other measures to forecast, plan and manage its capital adequacy ratio.

In accordance with the "Administrative Measures for the Capital of Commercial Banks", the State Administration of Financial Supervision stipulates that the Group's core tier-1 capital adequacy ratio should not be lower than 7.50%, tier-1 capital adequacy ratio should not be lower than 8.50% and capital adequacy ratio of not less than 10.50%, which have been met by the Group.

The on-balance sheet risk-weighted assets are measured using different risk weights, which are determined according to the credit, market and other risks associated with each asset and counterparty, taking into account any eligible collaterals or guarantees. Similar treatment is adopted for off-balance sheet exposure, with adjustments made to reflect the more contingent nature of any potential losses. Market risk-weighted assets are calculated using the standardised approach. Operational risk-weighted assets are calculated using basic indicator approach.

The capital adequacy ratios and related components of the Group illustrated below are computed based on the Group's financial statements prepared in accordance with the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises.

44 Segment reporting

The Group manages its business by business lines. Consistent with the way in which information is reported internally to the Group's most senior executive management for the purposes of resource allocation and performance assessment, the Group defines reporting segments based on the following operating segments:

Corporate banking

This segment represents the provision of a range of financial products and services to corporations, government agencies and financial institutions. These products and services include corporate loans and advances, trade financing and deposit taking activities, agency services, consulting and advisory services, remittance and settlement services and guarantee services.

Retail banking

This segment represents the provision of a range of financial products and services to retail customers. These products and services include personal loans and deposit taking activities, bank card business, personal wealth management services and remittance services.

Financial markets business

This segment covers the Group's financial markets business operations. The financial markets business enters into inter-bank money market transactions, repurchases transactions and investments. It also trades in debt securities. The financial markets business segment also covers management of the Group's overall liquidity position, including the issuance of debts.

Others

These represent assets, liabilities, income and expenses which cannot directly attributable or cannot be allocated to a segment on a reasonable basis.

Measurement of segment assets and liabilities and of segment income, expenses and results is based on the Group's accounting policies.

Internal charges and transfer prices are determined with reference to market rates and have been reflected in the performance of each segment. Interest income and expense earned from third parties are referred to as "external net interest income/expense". Net income and expense arising from internal charges and transfer pricing adjustments are referred to as "internal net interest income/expense".

Segment income, expenses, assets and liabilities include items directly attributable to a segment as well as those that can be allocated on a reasonable basis. Segment income, expenses, assets and liabilities are determined after considering intra-group balances and intra-group transactions are eliminated as part of the consolidation process. Segment capital expenditure is the total cost incurred during the year ended 31 December 2025 and 2024 to acquire property and equipment, intangible assets and other long-term assets.

45 Risk management

The Group has exposure to the following risks from its financial instruments: credit risk, market risk, interest rate in the banking book, liquidity risk and operational risk.

This note presents information about the Group's exposure to each of these risks and their sources, and the Group's objectives, policies and procedures for measuring and managing these risks.

The Group's risk management policies were established to identify and analyse the risks to which the Group is exposed, to set appropriate risk limits, and to design relevant internal control policies and systems for monitoring risks and adhering to risk limits. Risk management policies and relevant internal control systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the Group's activities. The Internal Audit Department of the Group undertakes both regular and ad hoc reviews of the compliance of internal control implementation with risk management policies.

(a) Credit risk

Credit risk represents the potential loss that may arise from the failure of a debtor or counterparty to meet its contractual obligation or commitment to the Group. It arises primarily from credit and bond investment portfolios and guarantees granted.

Credit business

The board of directors is responsible for setting the Group's risk management strategy and the overall risk tolerance level. The board also monitors the Group's risk management process and regularly assesses the Group's risk position and risk management strategies. The board gives advice on internal controls relating to risk management. The responsible departments for credit risk management include the Credit Approval Department, Credit Management Department, and Risk Management Department. The Risk Management Department is responsible for implementing the Group's overall risk management system. Besides risk monitoring and control, the Risk Management Department is also responsible for formulating risk management policies. To ensure the independence of credit approval, the Credit Approval Department is independent from customer relationship and product management departments. Front office departments of branches carry out credit businesses according to the Group's risk management policies and procedures.

The Group continuously improves the internal control mechanism and strengthens the management of the credit business. The Group has established comprehensive assessment and inquiry mechanisms, assigning the credit management accountability to the relevant departments and individuals.

For corporate and institutional businesses, the Group has established industry-specific limits for credit approval. It has put in place continuous monitoring mechanism, with regular reporting of credit exposures to the board. The Group's credit risk management covers key operational phases, including pre-lending evaluations, credit approval, and post-lending monitoring. With respect to pre-lending evaluations, the Group assesses customer credit ratings and performs integrated analysis on the risk and return of the loan. In the credit approval phase, all credit applications are approved by designated credit officers. During the post-lending monitoring, the Group continually monitors outstanding loans and other credit related businesses. Any adverse events that may significantly affect a borrower's repayment ability are reported immediately, and actions are taken to mitigate the risks.

For personal credit operation business, credit assessment of applicants is used as the basis for loan approval. In the credit assessment, customer relationship managers are required to assess the income level, credit history, and repayment ability of the applicant. The customer relationship managers then forward the application and their recommendations to the loan-approval departments for further approval. The Group monitors borrowers' repayment ability, the status of collateral and any changes to their value during the post-lending phase. Once a loan becomes overdue, the Group starts the recovery process according to standardised loan recovery procedures.

The Group adopts a loan risk classification approach to manage its loan portfolio risk. Loans are generally classified as normal, special mention, substandard, doubtful and loss according to their levels of risk. Substandard, doubtful and loss loans are considered to be impaired loans and advances. They are classified as such when one or more events demonstrate that there is objective evidence of a loss event. The impairment loss is assessed collectively or individually as appropriate.

Financial markets business

The Group sets credit limits for financial markets business operations based on the credit risk inherent in the products, counterparties and geographical areas. Credit risk exposure is closely monitored on a systematic, real-time basis, and credit risk limits are reviewed and updated regularly.

(a) Credit risk (Continued)

Credit risk management

The financial assets are categorised by the Group into the following stages to manage its financial assets' credit risk:

Stage 1

Financial assets have not experienced a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition and impairment recognised on the basis of 12-month ECLs.

Stage 2

Financial assets have experienced a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition and impairment is recognised on the basis of lifetime ECLs.

Stage 3

Financial assets that are in default and considered credit-impaired.

Significant increase in credit risk

When one or more quantitative, qualitative standards or upper limits are triggered, the Group assumes that credit risk on financial assets has increased significantly.

If the borrower is listed in the watch list and one or more of the following criteria are met:

- The credit spread increases significantly;
- Significant changes with an adverse effect that have taken place in the borrower's business, financial and economic status;
- Application for a grace period or debt-restructuring;
- Significant changes with an adverse effect in the borrower's business conditions;
- Decrease in value of the collaterals (for the collateral loans and pledged loans only);
- Indicators of cash flow/liquidity issues, such as late payment of accounts payable/repayment of loans;
- The financial asset is overdue more than 30 days.

The Group uses watch lists to monitor credit risk of financial assets related to loans and financial market operations, and conducts regular assessments at the counterparty level. The standards used in determining whether credit risk increases significantly are regularly monitored and reviewed by the management for the appropriateness.

As at 31 December 2025, the Group did not consider any of its financial assets to have a low credit risk that would warrant not reassessing these financial assets at the end of the reporting period to determine whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since their initial recognition.

Definition of “default” and “credit-impaired assets”

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether a financial asset is credit-impaired. A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes the following observable events:

- significant financial difficulties of the debtor;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
- it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter into bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation;
- significant changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have an adverse effect on the debtor;
- the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties of the issuer; or
- overdue more than 90 days.

The above criteria apply to all financial assets of the Group and they are consistent with the definition of “default” adopted by the internal management of credit risk.

Measurement of ECLs

The Group adopts ECL model to measure provision for loss of financial assets based on the stages categorised above.

The ECL is the result of the discounted product of probability of default (“PD”), exposure at default (“EAD”) and loss given default (“LGD”). The definitions of these terms are as follows:

- PD refers to the likelihood that a borrower will be unable to meet his repayment obligations over the next 12 months or the remaining lifetime of the loan;
- EAD is the amount that the Group should be reimbursed upon default of an obligor over the next 12 months or the remaining lifetime of the loan;
- LGD refers to the expected degree of loss arising from the exposure at default which is predicted by the Group. LGD varies according to different types of counterparties, methods and priority of recovering debts, and the availability of collaterals or other credit support.

The Group determines the ECL by estimating the PD, LGD and EAD of individual exposure or asset portfolios in the future months. The Group multiplies these three parameters and makes adjustments according to the probability of their continuance (i.e. there is no prepayment or default at an earlier period). By adopting this approach, the Group can calculate the ECL for the future months. The results of calculation for each month are then discounted to the balance sheet date and added up. The discount rate used in the calculation of ECL is the initial effective interest rate or its approximate value.

PD is derived based on internal and external ratings, five-level classification or historical data, with forward-looking adjustments.

The Group's exposure to credit risk can be reasonably grouped into credit risks by using qualitative and quantitative analyses and suggestions from experts, and by taking into account credit risk characteristics such as business types, product attributes or customer characteristics.

The Group updates the ECL assessment on a monthly basis, also makes loss allowance for credit risk based on the assessment results. To ensure that the model parameters adequately reflect the impact of forward-looking information on ECLs, the model parameters are updated at least semi-annually, the implementation of the ECL approach is assessed annually, and a competent independent external third-party institution is engaged to conduct a comprehensive validation on the implementation model under the ECL approach at least once every three years.

In measuring ECLs of financial instruments, the Group requires to consider all available, reasonable and reliable information that may affect credit risk, uses relevant observable data (e.g., Gross Domestic Product (“GDP”), Consumer Price Index, income of urban residents, etc.).

The Group setting up a variety of basic scenarios in accordance with the Group’s operations and the macro-political situation when developing forward-looking information indicators, specifying the weight of different scenarios, and adding extreme scenarios in conjunction with the results of the stress tests when necessary. Adopt a combination of internal expert forecasting methods and data from external institutions to obtain forward-looking information, which may include both domestic information and information about other countries and regions related to credit risk. The forward-looking model is established to determine the adjustments of forward-looking information to the relevant parameters of the ECL assessment model.

As at 31 December 2025, the Group makes forward-looking forecasts of macroeconomic indicators, taking into account the impact of different macroeconomic scenarios and other factors on economic trends. Among these, the quarter-on-quarter GDP growth rate used to estimate ECLs is 5.02% in 2026 under the neutral scenario.

Assessing credit risk of financial assets after the amendment of contractual cash flows

In order to achieve maximum collection, the Group may modify the contractual terms of loans due to business negotiations or financial difficulties of the borrowers at times.

Such rescheduling activities include extended payment term arrangements, payment holidays and payment forgiveness. Rescheduling policies and practices are based on indicators or criteria which, in the judgement of management, indicate that payment will most likely continue. These policies are kept under continuous review. The restructuring of loans is most common in the management of medium and long-term loans. The risk stage can only be lowered if the rescheduled loans are reviewed for at least 6 consecutive months and the corresponding stage classification criteria is reached.

(i) Maximum credit risk exposure

The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the net carrying amount of each type of financial assets as at the end of each reporting period.

(b) Market risk

Market risk refers to the risk of losses to the Group's activities arising from adverse movements in market rates including interest rates, foreign exchange rates, commodity prices, stock prices and other factors. Market risk exists in both the Group's trading and non-trading activities. The market risk disclosed in this note does not include interest rate risk in the banking book. An analysis of interest rate risk in the banking book is set out in Note 45(c).

The board of directors is ultimately responsible for monitoring the Group's market risk to ensure that the Group has effectively identified, measured and monitored all types of market risk. The Risk and Internal Control Management Committee monitors the market risk management process within the scope authorised by the board of directors, which include review and approval of market risk management strategies, policies and procedures. The Group is primarily exposed to market risk in its financial markets business. The Financial Market Department is responsible for carrying out capital investments and transactions, as well as monitoring and managing the foreign exchange risk on a daily basis. The Asset and Liability Management Department is responsible for monitoring and managing the interest rate risk in bank account. The Risk Management Department is responsible for formulating the market risk management policies and procedures, as well as identifying, measuring and monitoring the Group's market risk.

Sensitivity analysis is a technique which assesses the sensitivity of the Group's overall risk profile and its risk profile for each period with reference to the interest rate risks for different maturities.

Scenario analysis is a multi-factor analysis method which assesses the impact of multiple factors interacting simultaneously, taking into consideration of the probabilities of various scenarios.

Foreign currency gap analysis is a technique which estimates the impact of foreign exchange rate movements on the Group's current profit or loss. The foreign currency gap mainly arises from the currency mismatch in the Group's on/off-balance sheet items.

Sensitivity gap analysis is a technique which estimates the impact of interest rate movements on the Group's current profit or loss. It is used to work out the gap between future cash inflows and outflows by categorising each of the Group's interest-bearing assets and interest-bearing liabilities into different periods based on repricing dates.

The results of stress testing are assessed against a set of forward-looking scenarios using stress moves in market variables. The results are used to estimate the impact on profit or loss.

Effective duration analysis is a technique which estimates the impact of interest rate movements by giving a weight to each period's exposure according to its sensitivity, calculating the weighted exposure, and summarising all periods' weighted exposures to estimate the non-linear impact of a change in interest rates on the Group's economic value.

	2025 Increase/ (decrease)	2024 Increase/ (decrease)
Change in net profit and equity
Up 100 basis points ("bps") change of foreign exchange rate	39,869	8,361
Down 100 bps change of foreign exchange rate	(39,869)	(8,361)

The sensitivity analysis mentioned above is based on a static foreign exchange exposure profile of assets and liabilities and certain simplified assumptions as set out below:

- The foreign exchange sensitivity is the gain and loss recognised as a result of one hundred basis points fluctuation in the foreign currency exchange rates against RMB based on the closing rate of reporting date;
- The exchange rates against RMB for the US dollar and other foreign currencies change in the same direction simultaneously;
- All the position will be held and keep unchanged after maturity; and
- The analysis does not take into account the effect of risk management measures taken by the Group.

Due to the assumptions adopted, actual changes in the Group's net profit and equity resulting from the increase or decrease in foreign exchange rates may vary from the estimated results of this sensitivity analysis.

(c) Interest rate risk in the banking book

Interest rate risk management Interest rate risk in the banking book refers to the risk that the economic value and overall earnings of the banking book may be subject to loss due to adverse movement in interest rates, term structure and other factors.

The Group is primarily exposed to interest rate risk in the banking book arising from repricing risk in its commercial banking business and the risk of financial markets business position.

(c) Interest rate risk in the banking book (Continued)

Repricing risk

Repricing risk, which is also known as “maturity mismatch risk”, is the most common form of interest rate risk. It is caused by the differences in timing between the maturities (related to fixed interest instruments) or repricing (related to floating interest instruments) of assets, liabilities and off-balance sheet items. The mismatch of repricing timing causes the Group’s income or its inherent economic value to vary with the movement in interest rates.

The Asset and Liability Management Department is responsible for measuring, monitoring and managing interest rate risk. The Group regularly performs assessment on the interest rate repricing gap between the assets and liabilities that are sensitive to changes in interest rates and sensitivity analysis on the net interest income as a result of changes in interest rates. The primary objective of interest rate risk management is to minimise potential adverse effects on its net interest income or its inherent economic value caused by interest rate volatility.

Trading interest rate risk

Trading interest rate risk mainly arises from the financial markets business’ investment portfolios. Interest rate risk is monitored using the effective duration analysis method. The Group employs other supplementary methods to measure its interest rate sensitivity, which is expressed as changes in the investment portfolios’ fair value given a 100 basis points (1%) movement in the interest rates.

(c) Interest rate risk in the banking book (Continued)

The sensitivity analysis above is based on a static interest rate risk profile of the Group's assets and liabilities. This analysis measures only the impact of changes in interest rates within one year, showing how annualised net profit or loss and equity would have been affected by repricing of the Group's assets and liabilities within the one-year period. The effect of equity is the effect of the assumed changes in interest rates on the Group's net interest income and OCI, calculated by revaluing financial investments at FVOCI and loans and advances to customers measured at FVOCI held at year end. The sensitivity analysis is based on the following assumptions:

- Interest rate movements at the end of each of the reporting period apply to non-derivative financial instruments of the Group;
- At the end of each reporting period, an interest rate movement of 100 bps is based on the assumption of interest rates movement over the next 12 months;
- There is a parallel shift in the yield curve with the changes in interest rates;
- There are no other changes to the assets and liabilities portfolio;
- Other variables (including exchange rates) remain unchanged; and
- The analysis does not take into account the effect of risk management measures taken by the management.

Due to the adoption of the aforementioned assumptions, the actual changes in the Group's net profit or loss and equity caused by an increase or decrease in interest rates might vary from the estimated results of this sensitivity analysis.

(d) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that a commercial bank is unable to obtain funds on a timely basis or obtain funds at a reasonable cost to sustain its asset business or meet repayment obligations. This risk exists even if a bank's solvency remains strong. In accordance with liquidity policies, the Group monitors the future cash flows and maintains an appropriate level of highly liquid assets.

The Asset and Liability Management Committee ("ALMC") is responsible for managing the Group's overall liquidity risk. The ALMC is responsible for the formulation of the liquidity policies in accordance with regulatory requirements and prudential principles. Such policies include:

- Maintaining liquidity at a stable and sufficient level; establishing integrated liquidity risk management system; ensuring the meeting on a timely basis of liquidity requirements and the payment of assets, liabilities, and off-balance sheet business, whether under a normal operating environment or a state of stress; balancing the effectiveness and security of funds in an efficient manner; and
- Making timely and reasonable adjustments to capital structure and scale in response to market changes and business developments; pursuing profit maximisation and cost minimisation to a modest extent while ensuring appropriate liquidity; achieving the integration of the security, liquidity, and effectiveness of the Bank's funds.

The Asset and Liability Management Department takes the lead to execute liquidity management policies and is responsible for formulating and revising the liquidity management strategies, and for identifying, measuring, monitoring and releasing the liquidity risk of the Bank. It is also responsible for managing and forecasting the working capital on a regular basis and ensuring the liquidity of working capital meets management requirements based on the liquidity strategies. The Finance Market Department is responsible for performing the operation following the instructions of the Asset and Liability Management Department. Significant disbursement or portfolio changes must be reported to the ALMC on a timely basis.

A substantial portion of the Group's assets are funded by deposits from customers. These deposits from customers, which have been growing in recent years, are widely diversified in terms of type and duration and represent a stable source of funds.

The Group principally uses liquidity gap analysis to measure liquidity risk. Scenario analysis and stress testing are also adopted to assess the impact of liquidity risk.

(e) Operational risk

Operational risk refers to the risk of losses associated with internal processes deficiencies, personnel mistakes and information technology system failures, or impact from other external events.

The Group establishes a framework of policies and procedures to identify, assess, measure, control, manage and report operational risk. The framework covers all business functions ranging from corporate banking, retail banking, trading, corporate finance, settlement, intermediary business, asset management and all supporting functions, including human resource management, financial management, legal affairs, anti-money laundering and administration management. The key elements of the framework are listed as below:

- A multi-level operational risk management framework with segregation of duties between front and back offices under the leadership of senior management;
- A series of operational risk management policies covering all businesses on the basis of core operational risk management policy;
- An emergency plan and a business continuity system designed to deal with emergent and adverse circumstances, including public relation issues, natural disasters, IT system errors, bank runs, robberies, etc.;
- An evaluation system on the operational risk management as well as an inquiry and disciplinary system on the non-compliance issues; and
- An independent risk assessment framework based on the internal audit and the compliance review.

(f) Transfers of financial assets

In 2025, the Group transferred the non-performing financial assets amounted to RMB3,903.35 million to third parties.

In respect of the above transfer of non-performing financial assets, the Group assessed the transfer of risks and rewards and concluded that the transferred financial assets met the criteria for derecognition. Accordingly, the Group derecognised the financial assets transferred.

46 Fair value

(a) Methods and assumptions for measurement of fair value

The Group adopts the following methods and assumptions when evaluating fair values of financial instruments:

(i) Debt securities and equity investments

The fair values of debt securities and equity investments that are traded in an active market are based on their quoted market prices in an active market at the end of each reporting period.

(ii) Investments and other non-derivative financial assets

Fair values are estimated as the present value of the future cash flows, discounted at the market interest rates at the end of the reporting period.

(iii) Debt securities issued and other non-derivative financial liabilities

Fair values of debt securities issued are based on their quoted market prices at the end of the reporting period, or the present value of estimated future cash flows. The fair values of other non-derivative financial liabilities are valued at the present value of estimated future cash flows. The discount rates are based on the market interest rates at the end of the reporting period. The Group has established policies and internal controls with respect to the measurement of fair values, specifying the framework of fair value measurement of financial instruments, fair value measurement methodologies and procedures.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

(a) Methods and assumptions for measurement of fair value (Continued)

(iv) Derivative financial liabilities

The fair values of foreign currency forward and swaps contracts are determined by the difference between the present value of the forward price and the contractual price at the end of the reporting period, or is based on quoted market prices. The fair values of interest rate swaps are estimated as the present value of estimated future cash flows.

(b) Fair value measurement

(i) Financial assets

The Group's financial assets mainly consist of cash and deposits with the central bank, receivables with banks and other financial institutions, loans and advances to customers, lease receivables and financial investments.

Deposits with the central bank and receivables with banks and other financial institutions are mostly priced at market interest rates and due within one year. Accordingly, the carrying amounts approximate the fair values.

The majority of loans and advances measured at amortised cost and lease receivables are priced with reference to the Loan Prime Rate and are repriced at least annually based on prevailing market interest rates. Accordingly, the carrying amounts of these loans and advances approximate their fair values.

The fair values of loans and advances to customers measured at FVOCI are based on valuation techniques.

Financial investments at FVOCI and financial investments at FVPL are stated at fair value.

The following tables set out the differences between the fair values and carrying amounts of financial assets as at 31 December 2025 and 31 December 2024.

(c) Fair value hierarchy

The following table presents the fair value of the Bank's financial instruments measured at the end of the reporting period on a recurring basis, categorised into the three-level fair value hierarchy as defined in IFRS 13, Fair value measurement. The level into which a fair value measurement is classified is determined with reference to the observability and significance of the inputs used in the valuation technique as follows:

Level 1: Fair value measured using only Level 1 inputs i.e. unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities at the measurement date;

Level 2: Fair value measured using Level 2 inputs i.e. observable inputs which fail to meet Level 1, and not using significant unobservable inputs. Unobservable inputs are inputs for which market data are not available; and

Level 3: Fair value measured using significant unobservable inputs

If there is a reliable market quote for financial instruments, the fair value of financial instruments is based on quoted market prices. If a reliable quoted market price is not available, the fair value of the financial instruments is estimated using valuation techniques. Valuation techniques applied include reference to the fair value of another instrument that is substantially the same and discounted cash flow analysis. The inputs used in valuation techniques include risk-free and benchmark interest rate, and credit spreads. Where discounted cash flow analysis is used, estimated cash flows are based on management's best estimates and the discount rate used is reference to another instrument that is substantially the same.

47 Entrusted lending business

The Group provides entrusted lending business services to customers. All entrusted loans are funded by entrusted funds from these customers. The Group does not take any credit risk in relation to these transactions. The Group acts as an agent to hold and manage these assets and liabilities at the direction of the entrustor and receives fee income for the services provided. The entrusted assets are not the assets of the Group and are not recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position. Surplus funding is accounted for as deposits from customers.

48 Commitments and contingent liabilities

(a) Credit commitments

The Group's credit commitments take the form of loan commitments, bank acceptances, letters of credit and financial guarantees.

The contractual amounts of loan commitments represent the amounts should the contracts be fully drawn upon. The Group provides financial guarantees and letters of credit to guarantee the performance of customers to third parties. Acceptances comprise of undertakings by the Group to pay bills of exchange drawn on customers. The Group expects most acceptances to be settled simultaneously with the reimbursement from the customers.

	2025	2024
Bank acceptances	87,501,131	77,847,769
Letters of credit	34,085,366	34,866,484
Loan commitments	20,254,193	16,178,421
Letters of guarantees	3,921,047	2,783,709
Total	145,761,737	131,676,383

The Group may be exposed to credit risk in all the above credit businesses. Management periodically assesses credit risk and makes provision for any probable losses. As the facilities may expire without being drawn upon, the total of the contractual amounts shown above is not representative of expected future cash outflows.

(b) Capital commitments

As at 31 December the Group's authorised capital commitments are as follows:

	2025	2024
Contracted but not paid for	347,818	441,551

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(Expressed in thousands of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

50 Possible impacts of amendments, new standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective for the year ended 31 December 2025

Up to the date of issue of these consolidated financial statements, the IASB has issued a number of new or amended standards, which are not yet effective for the year ended 31 December 2025 and which have not been adopted in these consolidated financial statements. These developments include the following which may be relevant to the Group.

	Effective for accounting periods beginning on or after
Amendments to IFRS 9, Financial Instruments and IFRS 7, Financial Instruments: Disclosure – Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments	1 January 2026
Amendments to IFRS 9, Financial Instruments and IFRS 7, Financial Instruments: Disclosure – Contracts Referencing Nature-dependent Electricity	1 January 2026
Annual improvements to IFRS Accounting Standards – Volume 11	1 January 2026
IFRS 18, Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements	1 January 2027
IFRS 19, Subsidiaries without Public Accountability: Disclosures	1 January 2027
Amendments to IAS 21, The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates – Translation to a Hyperinflationary Presentation Currency	1 January 2027
Amendments to IFRS 10 and IAS 28, Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture	To be determined

Except for the new IFRS Accounting Standard mentioned below, the directors of the Bank anticipate that the application of all other new and amendments to IFRS Accounting Standards will have no material impact on the consolidated financial statements in the foreseeable future.

IFRS 18, Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements

IFRS 18 will replace IAS 1 Presentation of financial statements and aims to improve the transparency and comparability of information about an entity's financial statements. IFRS 18 is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027 and is to be applied retrospectively.

Among other changes, under IFRS 18, entities are required to classify all income and expenses into five categories in the statement of profit or loss, namely the operating, investing, financing, discontinued operations and income tax categories. Entities are also required to provide specific disclosures about management-defined performance measures in a single note in the financial statements.

The Group does not plan to early adopt IFRS 18 and is still in the process of assessing the impact of the adoption.

4 International claims

The Bank regards all claims on third parties outside Mainland China as international claims.

International claims include amounts due from banks and other financial institutions and financial investments.

A country or geographical area is reported where it constitutes 10% or more of the aggregate amount of international claims, after taking into account any risk transfers. Risk transfers are only made if the claims are guaranteed by a party in a country which is different from that of the counterparty or if the claims are on an overseas branch of a bank whose Head Office is located in another country.
